Favor Unified Transportation In Victoria Area

Joint Committee of Chamber and Real Estate Board Reports Against Gross Levy

A unified transportation system for Greater Victoria, with the routes in the business district unchanged from present ones and no percentage tax on gross earnings, was recommended by a joint committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Board of Victoria in a report adopted by directors of the chamber at a special meeting this morning.

The report also recommends that proposed routes be publicized and be the subject of submissions by the chamber and real estate board and other interested bodies before tenders are called and a plebiscite held on the most acceptable.

The report attacks Mayor Andrew McGavin for permitting the publication of a proposed changed business district routing after he had given assurance to the chamber that there would be no change.

The full report is as follows: It is the opinion of the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Real Estate Board that the issues of street transportation and of power and light should have been kept separate and should be dealt with by the City Council, each on its own merits—the transportation issue being of first importance, therefore, has only considered the question of street transportation.

It is further the feeling of this joint committee that any system of street transportation must embrace outlying municipalities and cover a unified Greater Victoria transportation system. As it is definitely decided by the B.C. Electric Railway Company that they shall not continue the existing street car system on a permanent basis after the expiring of their franchise, although they are willing, if so requested by the city, to continue for a reasonable length of time, not exceeding five years, to allow of a new system being decided upon and brought into being, therefore, your committee recommends that the City Council and the outlying municipalities be requested to promulgate and publicize tentative or suggested routes for coverage of the Greater Victoria area with a new system of transportation.

That the Real Estate Board, the Chamber of Commerce and any other interested public bodies be invited to consider and make recommendations in connection with the proposed routings, particularly with reference to routings within the business areas.

After arriving at the best collective routing, that the city and the outlying municipalities call simultaneously for tenders for street transportation on the routes decided upon as to fares and frequency of services over these routes.

AGAINST PERCENTAGE
That there be no percentage of gross tax included in the basis of tenders of any type of modern street transportation, inasmuch as the effect of this is to constitute a transportation company, a tax collection agency, the moneys for which must come from the traveling public only.

After receipt of these bids, that the most desirable bid be submitted to the public for plebiscite, together with the query of whether the public desire a continuation of the present system for a period not exceeding five years, and if the new system is voted on by majority, that the council be requested to ask the B.C. Electric to carry on on a month to month basis until the above has been carried out.

It is our understanding that the municipalities and the City Council are applying to the provincial government for enabling legislation so that they may call for and accept tenders for street transportation within their corporate limits. It is the feeling of your committee that the discussion and decision as to routings and basis of bids should be decided on now at as early a date as possible so that when enabling legislation is received from the provincial government all concerned will be in a position to call for final tenders without further loss of time.

In connection with the proposed routing as published in the press on October 19, we notice

Hon. R. R. Bruce Retires From Tokio Legation

Ottawa States British Columbian Will Not Return as Minister Envoy 2 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—Formal announcement came from the External Affairs Department today that Hon. R. Randolph Bruce has asked to be relieved of his post as minister and will not return to

HON. R. R. BRUCE

Tokio. Now voyaging across the Pacific, he is scheduled to arrive in Victoria next Wednesday.

The department issued the following statement:

"Hon. Randolph Bruce, Canadian Minister to Japan, is returning by the Empress of Canada . . . In accordance with the wish which he had expressed upon accepting the appointment as minister, Mr. Bruce had asked to be relieved this fall. Family illness has made it necessary for him to return somewhat earlier than was anticipated."

Announcement that Mr. Bruce was sailing came from Tokio October 20, but it was not known at that time he would not return.

He was appointed to the Tokio legation September 1, 1936. Mr. Bruce is 75.

Malahat Work To Start Soon

Tenders will be called shortly for the reconstruction of another section of the Malahat Drive, Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, declared today.

Specifications for the work are now being completed, the minister said.

This year's work, it is expected, will cover the rebuilding of the road from the end of the new Cousin's Hill cut-off to Hamsterly Malahat, a distance of approximately two and a half miles.

several changes in the business area routing which is contrary to the statement made by Mayor McGavin to the president and vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce when they recently interviewed him on this transportation question, at which time he emphatically stated he and his council had issued instructions to Mr. Beck that no changes should take place in the routing of transportation in the business area of the city.

CHANGE "DISASTROUS"
During debate on the report ex-Mayor David Leeming said any change in routing in the business district would be "absolutely disastrous" to trade and real estate values.

With reference to the continuation of service by the B.C. Electric for a period up to five years, Duncan MacBride, president of the chamber, said W. G. Murrin, president of the company, had told a delegation from the chamber the $20,000 the company was prepared to spend annually on extra maintenance work would not mean the abatement of the street noise nuisance from the street cars.

"You can't expect better transportation than you are getting now if they are only going on for five years or less," commented Walter Loney.

Several members of the board expressed surprise the city was doing nothing toward widening the Dardanelles, and had even refused offers of land needed for such work, in view of Mayor McGavin's assurance main routes into the city would not be changed.

VANDERHOOF HOTEL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Building on C.N.R.'s Northern B.C. Line Reduced to Ruins

VANDERHOOF, B.C. (CP)—The Vanderhoof Hotel, one of the first buildings erected in this village of 375 population, was destroyed by fire early today. No one was injured, but the hotel building was declared a total loss.

The hotel was constructed just after the old Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was built across northern British Columbia. It was owned by J. W. H. Day.

Vanderhoof, 65 miles west of Prince George, serves the Manson Creek mining district, and is a distributing point on what is now the Canadian National Railway's northern line.

Strong Fight Looms on Gas

Retailers Are Given New Assurance Against Loss

While the provincial government today prepared to fight to the Privy Council, if necessary, to prove the legality of its gasoline price-cutting order, it gave renewed assurance to retail gas dealers it did not expect them to bear the brunt of the cut.

Attorney-General Wismer announced he was ready for "any eventuality" arising from Mr. Justice Manson's decision on the interim injunction granted oil companies last week. His ruling is expected tomorrow.

Mr. Wismer will handle the case personally through all courts.

This morning the gasoline committee of the Retail Merchants' Association met Mr. Wismer and expressed themselves as satisfied with the explanation the government did not intend they should be victims of the price-cut.

George R. Matthews, secretary, said in view of the injunction proceedings the retailers had no alternative but to maintain their prices in conformity with the amounts charged them by the oil companies.

Others on the delegation were W. A. Davis, J. Hawkes, R. R. Taylor and B. T. Derry of Victoria, and Mr. Matthews, A. Higgins and L. Farris from the mainland.

Whichever way Mr. Manson's ruling goes, it was expected a fight to higher courts would start immediately. If the injunction is upheld, the government will take it to the Court of Appeal. If it is dissolved the machinery for enforcing the new prices will start operating immediately. Oil companies, however, are expected to appeal if the government wins the case.

The government, in the meantime, proposes to enforce the new prices as soon as they are declared legal by any court.

Gasoline Ruling Coming Tomorrow

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson said today his judgment on whether an injunction against a provincial government-approved gasoline price reduction should be continued will be handed down tomorrow morning "if all goes well."

H. Plaxton, M.P., Insists on Rights At Bren Inquiry

Answers Questions But Claims Commission Cannot Force Him Commons His Judge

OTTAWA (CP)—Hugh Plaxton, Liberal M.P. for Toronto-Trinity, declared today that as a member of Parliament he was not subject to the jurisdiction of the Bren machine-gun inquiry.

As he took the stand at the investigation this forenoon Mr. Plaxton declared the commission's terms of reference were "ultra vires of the crown" in so far as they directed the commission to investigate the connection of any member of Parliament with the Bren gun contract.

The House of Commons enjoyed the "inalienable right to judge its own members," Mr. Plaxton declared. "All I ask is that when I enter the witness box it is not construed that I am sacrificing, alienating or compromising in any shape or form my rights and privileges as a member of the House of Commons."

Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, conducting the inquiry into the Defence Department's contract with John Inglis Co. Limited of Toronto for 7,000 Bren machine-guns, said it was not his intention to pass or rule on Mr. Plaxton's contention unless the member refused to take the stand.

TALKS IN 1936
Mr. Plaxton introduced Major James E. Hahn, president of the Inglis Company, to the Defence Department in October, 1936, and assisted him in arranging meetings which led to the Bren gun contract.

Before he took the stand, Mr. Plaxton also took "rather strong exception" to the manner in which he was called for evidence. His first warning was when he read in the morning papers Saturday that Commissioner Davis had ordered his appearance for today.

"The suggestion or innuendo is that I had been avoiding this, where the truth is I have been here and available almost constantly since the inquiry opened," Mr. Plaxton said.

"That was not in my mind at all," Commissioner Davis said. "I was merely trying to stir up counsel to get them to hurry along with some of the main witnesses."

QUESTIONS AND LETTERS
Mr. Plaxton answered numerous questions asked by Hon. J. L. Ralston, K.C., commission counsel.

Mr. Plaxton read a letter written by Mr. Plaxton August 23, 1936, to Prime Minister King asking whether there was any chance of contracts for "a group of friends" who had a plant in his riding. He was asked the names of those in the "group."

Mr. Plaxton said he referred to Hahn, his brother, Herbert Plaxton, and Cameron and Pointon of the Toronto brokerage firm of Cameron, Pointon and Merritt.

SINGLE MEN GO TO WORK CAMPS

Five forestry and two public work camps on Vancouver Island and six on the mainland will open tomorrow as the provincial government's winter camp scheme for single men starts.

Approximately 950 men will be sent to the camps this week. Later in the season other camps will be opened to accommodate between 1,500 and 1,700 men.

On the island the forestry branch has camps at Dean Park, near Sidney; at Glintz Lake, near the Sooke fish hatchery; at Englishman's River Falls, at Elk River Falls and at Koksilah, near Duncan.

The public works department will operate a big camp at Otter Point where the men will work on the West Coast Road, and at Mount Douglas Park.

It is expected about 300 men will be put to work on the road under Hon. F. M. MacPherson's department. It is hoped to make considerable progress on the highway this year.

U.S. Radio Scare Investigated

Board to Report on Mass Excitement Caused By Mythical Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Communications Commission began an investigation today of a dramatic radio broadcast which led some people to believe last night that men from Mars had attacked the United States.

Chairman Frank McNinch asked the Columbia Broadcasting System to furnish the commission with an electrical transcription of the broadcast, a dramatized version of H. G. Wells' imaginative story, "War of the Worlds," McNinch said.

"Any broadcast that creates panic and fear as this one is reported to have done is, to say the least, regrettable," he added.

By CHARLES GRUMICH
Associated Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK—A horrible broadcast fantasy of war waged on the United States by fearsome, space-conquering men from Mars brought near panic to thousands of radio listeners last night.

In the double-quick tempo of the news broadcasters, the fiction of a Columbia program became so realistic that hysteria prevailed among listeners throughout the United States.

Demands for investigation and correction came apace today with the belated reports of almost fantastic panic.

Senator Clyde Herring, Democrat, Iowa, said he planned to introduce in the United States Congress a bill "controlling just such abuses as was heard over the radio last night. . . . Radio has no more right to present programs like that than someone has in knocking on your door and screaming," he added.

TRENTON ANNOYED
City Manager Paul Morton of Trenton, N.J., near the locale of the fictional invasion, said he would demand an investigation by the Federal Communications Commission "with the view of preventing recurrence of what happened."

The broadcast was an adaptation of H. G. Wells' imaginative "War of the Worlds," written 40 years ago, further dramatized and enacted by Orson Welles, the 23-year-old Broadway theatrical prodigy. Wells' Americanized the locale and situations.

Four times during the program, the Columbia Broadcasting System pointed out, the announcer stressed the story was nothing but fiction.

This comforting reiteration either escaped many of those who tuned in for the full program or was lost entirely to part-time listeners or late tuners-in, for it failed to prevent a hysteria unknown to the United States since the Great War.

Some apartment houses in New York were emptied hurriedly by frantic listeners to the program—and by second and third-hand accounts that multiplied the impending peril.

A woman in Pittsburgh tried to commit suicide, saying "I'd rather die this way than like that."

At a high point in the program the electric power failed at Concrete, Wash., a town of 1,000 and the lights went out in most of the homes. Many thought the invasion had reached the west coast. Women fainted and men prepared to take their families to the mountains.

RADIO CAR SENT
New York police were unable to reach the CBS studios by telephone, so swamped was their switchboard, and a radio car was sent there for information.

Many New Yorkers seized personal effects and jumped into their automobiles and headed for the wide open spaces.

Samuel Tishman, a Riverside Drive resident, declared he and hundreds of others evacuated their homes, fearing "the city was being bombed."

He told of going home and receiving a frantic telephone call from a nephew.

"I turned on the radio and heard the broadcast which corroborated what my nephew had said, grabbed my hat and coat and a few personal belongings and ran to the elevator. When I got to the street there were hundreds of people milling around in panic. Most of us ran toward Broadway and it was not until we stopped taxi drivers who had heard the entire broadcast on their radios that we knew what it was all about. . . . A woman ran into a church in

Queries But No Hysteria on Radio Skit in Canada

Telephone Calls in Eastern Cities on U.S. 'War' Sketch

TORONTO (CP)—Maybe Canadians are not frightened by the United States as easily as their United States cousins. Or perhaps their attitude of unperpetrated curiosity as they "listened" to Columbia broadcast of a fantasy of war waged by space-conquering men from Mars was because the program wasn't carried widely in the Dominion.

Columbia's adaptation of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds," carried on a coast-to-coast network in the United States last night, was heard only regionally in Canada and was not carried over the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network. Reports today indicated the play was heard only in eastern Canada.

Hundreds of telephone calls were received by newspapers in Toronto, Montreal, Quebec and London, Ont. But the tone of the inquiries failed to approach the hysteria evident in many parts of the United States, where church services were broken up and scores of persons left crowded cities for open spaces.

Among 400 calls received by a Toronto newspaper was a complaint from a man that his wife, in delicate condition, had broken down as a result of the broadcast. Telephone company officials said calls as a result of the broadcast did not reach record proportions.

In London, Ont., several residents wanted to know where was "this terrible gas explosion," and in Lethbridge one asked "Is it true a meteor crashed in New Jersey?" Similar queries were heard in Montreal and Quebec.

Second Murder Trial Proceeds

Motion to Traverse Colebourne Case Dismissed By Mr. Justice Fisher

The second trial of Vera Colebourne, charged with the murder of her husband, Sidney William Colebourne, at their 2230 Bowker Avenue cottage on April 1, opened here today. Luncheon adjournment was ordered after a motion to have the trial traversed to the next assizes was refused by Mr. Justice Fisher after the jury had been selected and Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., had outlined the crown's case.

R. C. Lowe, for the defence, contended the new panel of jurors had been improperly called, following dismissal of the first panel after the jury had disagreed on a verdict. Members of the preceding panel should have been available, he claimed.

Mr. Lowe also attacked the charge of the judge in the first trial on the grounds the judge had asserted up to the time of the trial the crown had not known what the defence would be. The defence, Mr. Lowe said, had been materially the same as had been indicated in a previous statement by the accused.

Defence counsel also objected to notice of the Crown's intention to introduce new evidence. He had learned of that decision only on Saturday morning, he said.

Mr. Justice Fisher dismissed the motion to traverse the case, ordered production of new documents for Mr. Lowe's immediate perusal and proceeded with the trial.

Mrs. Colebourne pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Four jurors were excused and the applications of two others were refused. The complete ballot was exhausted and two who had been stood aside were called into service before the jury was made up. It includes S. J. D. Clark, foreman; P. G. Pearson, Robert M. Allan, H. Victor Bartholomew, Robert James Matheson, Edward H. Carey, Randolph Tervo, Frederick P. Jeune, James J. Bothwell, Horace Plimley, John G. Simpson and Frederick Hugh Francis.

NEW STAFF HEAD FOR REICH ARMY

Hitler Puts Gen. F. H. H. in Place Of Gen. L. Beck

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Hitler tonight accepted the resignation of General Ludwig Beck as chief of the army general staff and named General Franz Halder to replace him.

An official announcement said Gen. Beck's application to be relieved was granted by the Fuehrer, who promoted him to the rank of colonel-general with permission to wear the uniform of the Fifth Artillery Regiment. The change was effective today.

Col. Gen. Gerd von Rundstedt, who commanded one of the armies which marched in to occupy the Sudetenland, also was relieved of his command of any group number one, effective today. According to the announcement, he also asked to be relieved and the Fuehrer granted his application.

Mrs. A. MacLean And Son Drown

VANCOUVER (CP)—A rain-wet street caused an automobile to hurtle through a bridge railing here yesterday, and today an inquest on the deaths of its two occupants was opened.

Mrs. Margaret MacLean, 42-year-old wife of Lieut.-Col. A. T. MacLean and daughter of the late Major-General J. W. Stewart, was driver of the automobile, which plunged 50 feet into shallow water near the south end of the Granville Street bridge.

She was killed, as was the only other passenger in the heavy car, her eight-year-old son, Allister.

For more than two hours the crew of a city fireboat and a wrecking truck grappled for the submerged automobile before it was recovered with the two bodies.

Police reports said Mrs. MacLean apparently was driving south on the bridge. She was near the end of the span when she pulled out to pass another car. Her machine hit the slippery car tracks and seemed to go out of control.

The car swerved in a wild skid, eye witnesses said, and two wheels lifted off the ground as if it would turn over. Then it settled down again, swung sharply to the right and jumped a sidewalk curb into the railing.

HUNG ON EDGE

They said it teetered with two wheels over the edge of the bridge for several seconds before it finally lunged into the water, nose down.

MacLean's husband was duck-hunting when the accident occurred and was told of the accident by friends.

Maj.-Gen. Stewart died within the last few weeks and Mrs. Stewart about four years ago.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. MacLean were married in 1929. He is on the Officers' Reserve and manager of the Pressure Pipe Company here. The son was a student at George's School.

Mrs. MacLean, whose parents' home, "Ardrvar," on Shaughnessy Heights, was frequently the scene of society functions—at one time the Duke of Windsor, when he was Prince of Wales, was entertained there—was educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart at Point Grey and at Sacred Heart Convent near Paris, France. She was widely traveled and once presented at a Royal Court at Buckingham Palace to the late King George V and Queen Mary. An outdoor woman, she participated in riding, polo and hunting and was extremely fond of dogs. She was a member of the Lions' Gate Riding Company.

Cabinet Changes In Britain to Speed Defence

Sir J. Anderson New
Privy Seal/Runciman
Lord President

Split Report Heard

By J. F. ANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON — Prime Minister Chamberlain announced further cabinet changes tonight on the eve of the assembling of Parliament.

Sir John Anderson, former governor of Bengal, was appointed Lord Privy Seal.

Viscount Runciman becomes Lord President of the Council in succession to Viscount Halsbury, who resigned.

Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald becomes Secretary of the Dominions, combining that office with the Colonial Secretaryship.

To Sir John Anderson will be given the task of putting Air Raids Precautions on a sound footing. He once was a senior civil servant and turned to politics after a term as Governor of Bengal.

The cabinet shake-up was believed to be preparatory to a widespread organization of the nation for defence.

CABINET SPLIT REPORTS

Meanwhile reports were current in London of difference among the ministers as to how to apply the whip to rearmament.

Three ministers—Sir Samuel Hoare, Leslie Hore-Belisha, and Sir Kingsley Wood—were reported as urging creation of a ministry of supply with compulsory powers, but Mr. Chamberlain was said to be opposed to the plan on the ground it would dislocate industry and prejudice export trade.

The session of parliament opening tomorrow is expected to be a "grand inquest" on the Munich accord as well as the proposal for putting the Easter Anglo-Italian agreement into effect. But the biggest issue is the defence problem.

The London Times, Independent, in an editorial said the government "cannot too soon create the machinery" for organizing the country's manpower for national defence.

"There is really no guarantee," it declared, "that a sudden emergency involving national mobilization would not produce much the same confusion and waste of manpower as occurred in 1914-15."

In the lower part of my riding and a great many former employees were "out of work and on relief," he said. "Its idleness contributed considerably to distress in that district. I think I told them I would do anything I could to help get it reopened."

Mr. Plaxton said he played no part in the negotiations by which Major Hahn and his associates obtained the assets of the old John Inglis Company in the fall of 1936, but he knew in a general way the deal was in progress.

"Did you know, when you introduced Major Hahn to Gen. L. R. LaFleche, (Deputy Minister of Defence), October 9, 1936, that an offer had been made for the plant?" Col. Ralston asked.

"I am confident that I knew in a general way that the deal was consummated."

Of the October 9 meeting at the office of Major Gen. LaFleche, Mr. Plaxton said he could not recall whether he came to Ottawa with Hahn or met him here. He had introduced him to the deputy and left him there. He could not recall talking business or having seen the Bren gun mounted in the deputy minister's office.

Mr. Plaxton could not recall any further discussions with Major Hahn until October 19, when they were again in Ottawa and Mr. Plaxton introduced Major Hahn to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Defence. He was "prepared to have it assumed" that he was asked by Hahn to come to Ottawa for the purpose.

WANTED LETTER

On October 19, 1936, Mr. Plaxton said he arranged an appointment with Mr. Mackenzie and spent a few minutes explaining to the minister who Major Hahn was. He then called in Major Hahn and John Cameron and introduced them. One of the purposes of the meeting, if not the specific purpose, was to obtain a letter of introduction for Hahn to Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in London. The discussion with the minister was brief. He did not know whether Major Hahn or Mr. Cameron saw the deputy minister before or after the meeting with Mr. Mackenzie.

Commissioner Davis asked Mr. Plaxton about the expenses for his two trips to Ottawa on October 9 and 19, 1936.

Mr. Plaxton said he kept no record of his expenses and did not remember who paid them.

Col. Ralston then asked about a cheque to him for $750 on October 22, 1936, from Cameron, Pointon and Merritt. He said he had been called to a meeting with Major Hahn, Mr. Cameron and his two brothers, and it was suggested he might be of assistance in England.

VOYAGE PAYMENTS

"I indicated there was nothing there of interest to me and having regard to certain obligations I did not feel I could go unless my expenses were paid, and that was agreed."

"Who suggested the amount?" "I don't recall. It may have been me."

Mr. Plaxton said he kept no record of his expenses, but recalled the larger item, his passage on the liner Empress of Britain and back on the Europa.

"I should think that would eat up most of the $750 and maybe a bit more," said the commissioner.

Mr. Plaxton said he had kept no record of hotel bills and other expenses as he had no idea they ever would be needed.

Former Head of B.C. Police Dies

CALGARY (CP)—George Hope Johnson, 82, colorful western pioneer and veteran newspaperman, died in a hospital here today. He had been ill only a few days.

A member of the editorial staff of the Calgary Herald for nearly two decades, Mr. Johnson retired in 1935.

Born in Scotland, he came to the west in 1879 when, as he described it, "the whole west" was open for settlement. He homesteaded in Manitoba for three years and then started for the "real far west."

He settled in the East Kootenay country of British Columbia long before the railroad opened up the territory, and was one of the first homesteaders in the Windermere district. He homesteaded what is now a government experimental farm close to the present town of Windermere.

Durin gthe Riel Rebellion he was Commissioner of Police for British Columbia.

"My job was to enforce law and order from the summit of the Rockies for 150 miles along the construction line of the Canadian Pacific Railway," he said in an article recounting early western days published by the Calgary Herald three years ago.

He first saw Calgary in 1883 when it was a "tent town" of 300 population. From here he traveled by wagon and packhorse trail through the Crow's Nest Pass into the Kootenay Valley.

WORKED RANCH

Years later he returned to Alberta and until 1906 was a rancher in the Gleichen district, southeast of Calgary. An unsuccessful speculation swept away his resources and when more than 50 years old he was forced to start the "world afresh."

Mr. Johnson joined the Calgary Herald in 1916 as a court reporter following his retirement from a post in the sheriff's office of the southern Alberta judicial district.

He was married in 1887 to a daughter of the late J. J. Young, deputy provincial treasurer of British Columbia. Mrs. Johnson died in 1894. Surviving him are two sons, James L. Hope Johnson and G. E. H. Johnson, both of Calgary, and a brother, Robert of Winnipeg.

Author of "War of Worlds" Says U.S. Broadcast was To Be "Clearly Fiction"

LONDON (CP)—H. G. Wells, whose "War of the Worlds" furnished the basis of the broadcast which spread alarm in the United States last night, said today it was "implicit" in the agreement for selling the radio rights that any broadcast would clearly "be fiction and not news."

The novelist added he had given no permission whatever for alterations which might lead to belief the broadcast material was real news.

News of the panic caused by the American broadcast recalled a similar incident in this country in 1926.

In January of that year the British Broadcasting Company, as it was then called, put on the air a program in which Rev. Ron-

THANK YOU, CITIZENS

On behalf of the Gasoline Dealers of British Columbia, I most sincerely thank you for your genuine demonstration of

"Do unto others as you would they should do unto you"

The Gasoline Dealers appreciate the wonderful support you are giving them in refusing to accept a cut in gasoline prices at the expense of the Dealer. Gasoline Dealers cannot profitably sell gasoline and give full measure and reliable service if they sell below their cost of doing business. A statement from any organization that gasoline is increased in price because of the Retail Commodities Retail Sales Act (Bill 89), or any other Act, is not true.

The loyalty of the motorists has certainly placed the Gasoline Dealer under deep gratitude and obligation, and this public announcement gives you full assurance that as soon as the wholesale price of gasoline is reduced the Retailers throughout the province will immediately lower the price accordingly to the public.

Timber Commissar Of Russia Ousted

MOSCOW (CP-Havas)—Mikhail Ryzhkov has been removed from his post as commissar for the timber industry, it was officially disclosed today. The action was taken by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

The Soviet press, criticizing Ryzhkov's failure in office, declared more than 8,000,000 cubic metres of timber still jammed in the rivers and threatened to be "frozen in" by approaching winter.

M. Intselovitch, vice-chairman of the Soviet control commission attached to the Council of People's Commissars, was named to succeed Ryzhkov.

Youth Council

The meeting of the Greater Victoria Youth Council of the Y.M.C.A., Nigel Morgan presiding, was attended by delegates from the Victoria College, Student Christians, Y.W.C.A., P.A.C., C.C.Y.M., Japanese Canadian Young Citizens, League of Nations Society and the Provincial Recreational Centres.

Mr. Morgan reported that final preparations were being made for the Model Parliament to be held by the council November 17, at the Y.M.C.A. auditorium. A resolution was passed that the Forum Committee investigate the possibility of building a forum with the co-operation of the government under the Dominion Housing Scheme. This matter will be discussed further, along with the building of a community youth centre, at the coming model parliament.

Mr. Ralston, on behalf of the debates committee, proposed that a series of debates be held. Alf Bachelor, representing the Provincial Recreational Movement, appealed for the co-operation of the council declaring that he would secure moving pictures depicting the growth of the P.R.C. movement which will be shown at the next Youth Council meeting at the Y.M.C.A., November 10.

Another Victoria Youth Council debate will be held at the Y.W.C.A. November 12 and all youth groups are invited to attend. A letter of protest was sent to the Attorney-General regarding the lengthy sentence given to the single unemployed tin-canners in Vancouver recently.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Wallis spoke on behalf of the Henry George Society.

Ace Astrologer Forecasts 1939

Comfort for Most Of World, But Troubles for Italy

By GLADYS M. ARNOLD
Canadian Press Correspondent

PARIS — Maurice Privat, France's celebrated astrologer and star-gazer, whose prophecies the French people have found come true in the past, has assured them 1939 will bring them no war. There will be lots of difficulties, he says, plenty of "alerts," big expenditures for armament, but Europe generally will continue to enjoy the peace promised by the conversations at Munich.

It is recalled that sometime in 1937 Mr. Privat announced firmly "On the 10th of March, 1938, Germany will deliver a fatal blow to Austria." Hitler's troops marched. Austria became a Nazi state March 11.

Being a Frenchman, Mr. Privat is most interested in his home country, but he casts an astrological eye over the rest of the world and keeps an ear open for heavenly secrets dealing with America and Japan, too. His idea of the "general prospect" for the next 15 months: "No war, plenty of alarms, hard work and higher salaries for the diplomats, financial, parliamentary, economic, military and international tremors, but no earthquakes — with the end of all regimes of force by the end of 1940."

For France he predicts bigger and better armaments, great change in composition of government, panic on the bourse, speculation, higher cost of living and social disturbances.

There will be crises and war menaces, Privat says, naming crisis dates—April 21, June 14, September 5 and December 14, and menace of war May 21, July 6 and November 21.

News for the dictators—"Great crisis brought on by the interior terrorism in the totalitarian states which will cause revolt of the people. Germany, Italy and Japan." Mr. Privat calls for civil war in Germany. At the beginning of 1939 there will be apparent success for Nazi regime—advantages gained to detriment of French colonial empire—but not for long. He predicts internal revolt brought on by fear of general war, terrorist methods will bring the end of Nazi regime and fall of Hitler in 1941.

TROUBLES FOR IL DUCE

Italy's troubles begin earlier—November 22, 1938. The astrologer predicts ruin of Italy's credit and increase in influence of Italian royal family. After August 3, 1939, Italy will have legally elected government, he says, and an "end of religious quarrels and return to liberalism at the beginning of 1940."

Soviet Russia, Privat says, will return to a parliamentary system within a socialist organization, through military dissensions. There will be continued unity of Soviet Republics, however, with growth of mysticism and evolution towards nature worship or pantheism. For Japan he predicts reverses, humiliation and end of war with China. The United States will have a fight against German propaganda and influences. Roosevelt will offer a plan for reorganization of the League of Nations.

The stars have confided to Mr. Privat that Great Britain will spend a great deal of money on social enterprises at home and will have trouble with the colonies abroad. The astrologer predicts the death of the Pope in 1939 and declares His Holiness' successor will "become a refugee."

Woman Unconscious After Fasting Days

WHITE CLOUD, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Edward Demkey, 35, of Borhman, was found Saturday in a wood, naked and unconscious after being missing since last Monday on what was described as a religious fast. Two boys found the woman, lying in a crude bed dug in the earth and covered only with leaves. Police said Mrs. Demkey told her husband: "The Lord has told me to go into the woods for five days."

U.B.C. Students May Adopt War Orphans

VANCOUVER (CP)—The University of British Columbia's Social Problems Club is formulating plans for raising money to support five children orphaned by the Spanish civil war.

It would cost about $25 a month to support the children in Canadian refugee homes outside Valencia and Barcelona. Mervin Davis, club president, said campus student organizations approached by the S.P.C. had pledged support.

WARRANTS FOLLOW CHILD MARRIAGE

Kentucky Police Search For F. Tackett and 10-Year-old Bride

PRESTONBURG, Ky. (AP)—Floyd County Judge Edwin P. Hill today signed warrants for Fleming Tackett, 34, his child-bride, Rose, and Tackett's mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Columbus.

The warrant against Tackett charged the miner with rape. Rose, who was reported as "under 14" in a second warrant, was charged with being a delinquent child growing up in "idleness and crime." Medical records in Johnson County show Rosie is 10 years old.

Mrs. Columbus was charged in the third warrant with conspiring with Tackett "in the crime of rape on the person of Rosie Columbus."

Judge Hill said officers went to the Tackett cabin in the hills near here early today, but found no one there.

The judge stated the Tacketts and Mrs. Columbus were reported to have gone to Paintsville in adjoining Johnson County and Floyd County officers had taken the warrants there.

County Attorney Forrest D. Short earlier had said a guardian for Rose, a bride of a week, would be sought.

"If a guardian can be found to adopt Rosie," Short said, "annulment proceedings will be filed in his name."

Rosie was married last Monday to Tackett.

When Short yesterday went to the windowless mountain cabin where "Flem," his bride, his former wife and her husband and Rosie's mother lived in two rooms, he said he was "absolutely amazed."

Short said the "affair cannot be exaggerated." Tackett had told him "I love her better than I love myself."

The county attorney continued: "A fraud was perpetrated when Mrs. Columbus alleged her daughter's age to be 15, and, according to the state marriage age limit of 14, a 'void marriage' was performed."

HOPES FOR FREEDOM

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Rota, 24, expressed the opinion today that "love will find a way" for him to be freed from the Cook County jail so he can live with his 12-year-old bride, Jennie.

Social service workers brought Rota before Judge Frank Bleck after they discovered the couple had been married at Valparaiso, Ind., last August 30 by a justice of the peace.

Judge Bleck ruled the marriage violated Illinois laws prohibiting the marriage of girls under 16.

The young bride's attorney, Robert Romano, said he would go into court to ask for Rota's release on "humanitarian grounds."

He said his client was expecting a baby.

VIVISECTION DISCUSSED

H. Wood presided at the monthly board meeting of the local antivivisection society. The secretary reported that magazines making libelous statements about George Arliss, actor and anti-vivisectionist, as a diabetic and insulin user, had withdrawn them. The society challenged statements on behalf of vivisection appearing in a current number of Life. These, it is alleged, are not in accordance with known facts and are unsupported by logical argument. The society passed a resolution approving the views of Dr. Walshe and Dr. Probert appearing in the British Medical Journal on the danger of infantile paralysis and measles serums and condemns the practice of using inmates of mental homes for experiment. Out of seven children inoculated three had died of the measles inoculation, it was reported. An open meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday, November 17, from 3 to 5, when G. B. Kitto will give an address.

U.S. Campaigns In Last Week

Big Vote Expected In Off-year Congressional Elections Nov. 8

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thousands of candidates for United States congressional and state offices began their final week of campaigning today amid indications of a record "off-year" vote in the November 8 election.

Politicians agreed the ballots would total far more than the 33,000,000 cast in the 1934 congressional election, even though they are not expected to reach the 45,000,000 mark set in the Roosevelt-Landon presidential contest two years ago.

For the last appeals to this vast array of voters, both Democratic and Republican parties called on their national leaders. The "reserve forces" include President Roosevelt, half of his cabinet, former President Hoover, and Alfred M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential candidate.

Mr. Landon was booked for an address today at Bartlesville, Okla., before returning to help the Republican ticket in his home state of Kansas.

Mr. Roosevelt will speak Friday night to a radio audience in support of the New York Democratic candidates. It is generally believed, however, he also will mention national issues.

In a letter made public yesterday the President said he had not been asking voters to vote for Democrats "as opposed to Republicans or members of any other party."

Twenty-four hours after Mr. Roosevelt's radio speech, former President Hoover and Chairman John Hamilton will close the Republican campaign. Mr. Hoover will speak Saturday at Spokane and Mr. Hamilton will make a final radio appeal.

Woman and Son Die In Car Accident

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—A Richmond, Calif., woman and her six-year-old son were drowned and three other persons were rescued yesterday when two automobiles plunged into a deep irrigation ditch full of water on Victoria Island in the San Joaquin River delta.

Mrs. Lillian F. Frederick, 23, Oakland, and her son Kenneth were en route to Stockton to visit Mrs. Frederick's father, a patient in a Stockton hospital, when their car, secured from a Berkeley automobile dealer for a demonstration, skidded on a wet pavement and plunged into the ditch.

A half hour after the Frederick's machine was discovered, John Ruth, 29, of Pinole skidded his car into the same ditch about 200 yards away from the first accident. Ruth broke the glass of the auto and scrambled to its top, where he stood above water. He was there a few minutes later when H. Hoff of Pittsburgh drove by. Hoff questioned Ruth, found there were two women in the car, and diving into the ditch, pulled out Ruth's wife, Mrs. M. Ruth, 26, and Mrs. R. Scott, 60, of Stockton.

Capital-labor Arbitration Plan

MAGOG, Que. (CP)—Establishment of a "supreme council" to arbitrate problems of capital and labor in Quebec was suggested by Liberal Leader Adélard Godbout at a provincial by-election rally here last night.

The former premier declared that, were he in power, he would set up such a tribunal. Declaring the government had accused certain labor unions of "communism," Mr. Godbout asserted the government's policy itself was more communistic than any of these.

Efforts to Complete Vancouver Fund

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's annual welfare federation drive closed officially Saturday night, about $100,000 short of its objective of $385,000, but $10,000 above last year's total at the same time.

Canvassers went out again today, determined to complete the quota this week.

FIXING OF FARM PRICES ADVOCATED

Many Leaders in U.S. Propose Government Use Decree Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States farmers, weary from a long struggle with unsatisfactory markets, are debating whether they should support an economic short-cut to higher prices—governmental fixing of prices by decree—or rally behind New Deal efforts to boost their incomes.

Many agricultural leaders are advocating existing farm legislation be replaced by a law directing the government to establish prices which would assure growers "cost of production" and a profit on their products.

Pointing to a decline in prices this year, these men contend farmers cannot hope to obtain profitable returns through a free market, where competition, supply and demand are allowed to determine price. They likewise assert New Deal efforts to raise prices, and thus raise farm income, through crop control programs have failed.

FEWER COMMUNIST VOTERS IN FRANCE

Two By-elections for Chamber of Deputies Show Falling Off

PARIS (CP-Havas)—A drop in communist votes featured two by-elections for seats in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

At Charolles, Paul Faure, member of the former Blum cabinet and general secretary of the Socialist party, headed the poll. A member of Col. Francois de La Rocque's Social Party, Charles Vallin, took the lead in the ninth Paris district.

In both cases candidates did not obtain the clear majority required and a run-off vote will take place next Sunday.

The Communist candidate lost more than 1,000 votes as compared with the 1936 figure at Charolles, which was held by a Socialist previously. In the Paris district a drop of 600 votes was noted. The seat was vacated by a Rightist.

Baking Strike in Winnipeg Ended

WINNIPEG (CP)—More than 100 employees of Spiers-Parnell Baking Company returned to work today after a one-day strike Saturday.

The men walked out when employees sought reinstatement of three workers, One Big Union officials said.

The company reinstated one of the three men during the weekend and employees agreed to work while a board of conciliation dealt with the other two.

Straits Settlements Aid British Defence

SINGAPORE (CP-Havas)—Approval of a plan to contribute £1,166,000 ($5,830,000) to the British exchequer toward imperial defence was voted today by the Straits Settlements legislative assembly. Large Okanagan Apple Crop Picked PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Apple growers in this fruit growing centre today were completing the harvesting of one of the largest and best apple crops in the fruit-growing history of the Okanagan Valley.

Despite heavy infestation of codling moth, packing house managers reported production estimates had been exceeded in almost all cases.

The Okanagan crop is estimated to run close to 5,500,000 boxes. Some 2,230,000 boxes of apples already have been shipped. While difficulties are expected in marketing conditions this year, growers remain optimistic. With the United States apple crop only 50 per cent this year, a greater demand for the fruit is expected. Exporters report a good demand for the British Columbia fruit.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1938

Alaska Highway Advocate

SIR EVELYN WRENCH HAS WRITTEN to The Times (London) suggesting British financiers or the British Government lend this province the money, at a low rate of interest, for 50 years, to carry through the Alaska Highway. He argues that it would be a fitting thankoffering for 125 years of peace with the United States and that, after all, the financial accommodation would only represent the cost of a single battleship.

It may not be generally realized, perhaps, that there are few British journalists who know the British Empire, its people and their national and community problems, better than Sir Evelyn Wrench, who, by the way, is chairman of The Spectator, vice-president and founder of the Overseas League, founder of the English-speaking Union, and an ardent student at first hand of the workings of the Britannic Commonwealth. He is just as much at home in any part of the Dominions or Colonies—and foreign countries—as he is at his desk in London. His recreation is traveling.

Sir Evelyn's suggestion, we fear, is altogether too practical, too simple, too far-seeing and constructive to obtain more than perfunctory consideration from those statesmen and financiers who seem to be able to get a great deal more satisfaction from international intrigue and the modern type of international diplomacy than they do from the commonsense argument of the plain man. Knowing British Columbia and Canada as he does, of course, Sir Evelyn is taking the long view of this western scene, visualizing the transformation under which it may be compelled to go at no very distant date unless the significance of the march of events in the Orient in the last year or so shall succeed in impressing the official mind in London—and Washington, for that matter—much more forcibly than it appears to have done so far.

With British money behind the Alaska highway, however, the unimaginative critics of Prime Minister Pattullo's scheme would suddenly find themselves robbed of their arguments against proposed friendly financial aid from the United States. In any case, as the Premier has said on so many occasions, no matter whose money eventually will go into the building of this essential highway link through British Columbia, complete control of its operation under every head will remain, without peradventure, in the hands of this province.

In the meantime, Sir Evelyn Wrench, especially by virtue of his knowledge of this continent and Asia, has drawn attention to a project which is much more vital to the British Empire in general and Canada and the United States in particular than even many of our own Canadian citizens realize.

Not Consistent

AT ONE POINT OF HIS MAIDEN speech as Leader of the Opposition Mr. Maitland urged the Legislature to demand that the Empire Agreements—the Ottawa trade pacts of 1932—be not interfered with. He complained that the original resolution moved by the Conservatives at last year's session of the House was so badly emasculated by the Prime Minister that, to all intents and purposes, its force was destroyed. We do not agree with the opposition chief, either with his contention that the force of the motion was impaired by the amendment, or that it had been approved unaltered by British Columbia's interest in certain clauses of the Canada-United Kingdom treaty would have appeared more definitely forceful.

The Legislature went on record suggesting the Dominion Government do everything in its power to retain the preferences Great Britain granted to Canada under the agreements entered into between this country and the United Kingdom in 1932. Mr. Maitland naturally is mindful of the fact that British Columbia lumber and British Columbia apples have found it easier to get into the United Kingdom under the special protective clauses of the pact. But what the Leader of the Opposition does not seem to realize is that, in the final analysis, it is the government of Great Britain, not Canada or any other Dominion, which shall say whether it considers it desirable to preserve or withdraw those concessions.

We suggest that Mr. Maitland also bear in mind that the present government at Westminster is looking far and wide for new customers with whom to do more business. Britain's adverse trade balance has grown to alarming proportions in the last year and, despite the armaments building program, her idle army is greater by more than 500,000 than it was 12 months ago. She needs wider export markets to assist in contracting the gap between purchases and sales.

Does Mr. Maitland realize, moreover, that during the last year Canada sold $369,800,000 worth of goods to the United Kingdom and bought from her only $129,700,000 worth, or a $240,000,000-balance in our favor? Will he argue that this is the time for the British Columbia Legislature to demand that Britain put up with this lopsided trade exchange indefinitely—especially when she is spending billions of dollars more than she can afford to defend the "Peace of Munich" which some pocket imperialists seem to think is first-cousin to a new charter of international understanding?

We agree there is a temptation for the leader of a party which is hard put to to lodge a real case against his opponents in office. But Mr. Maitland does not strengthen his case by a consideration of the Empire pacts, and British Columbia's interest in them, from the parochial point of view.

Hallowe'en

THIS IS HALLOWE'EEN, AS MOST OF US already have good reason to know. A Canadian Press survey prepared for the newspapers across the country says there is no maybe about the celebration in British Columbia. The children are "all over town as soon as the sun goes down, dolled up in their oldest clothes and wearing comic masks or copious layers of charcoal on their faces." The cry of our young people on this occasion is said to be "How about a Hallowe'en hand-out?" Firecrackers and toy bombs, it is added, without exaggeration, give a lively touch to the scene here.

In the Maritimes and Quebec, children in disguise call at houses, their "guess who?" questions being coupled with hints that anything in the way of candy, apples or money would be acceptable. Ontario youngsters are reported to be more aggressive, with storekeepers having learned through the years that a little indulgence is good policy as the masqueraders bear down with their lusty "shell out! shell out!" On the prairies an apple is welcomed above other gifts, for there an apple is an apple.

As the boys and girls go from house to house tonight in masquerade, they are merely following a practice established by the young folk in other countries thousands of years ago. From all we can learn, the custom has little changed through 25 centuries. In pagan Rome, at the festival of Pomona, goddess of fruits and nuts, the apple (poma) played an important part. It is still more closely associated with the occasion than any other fruit, although on this continent the pumpkin, used as a Jack-o'-lantern, has come to play an important role. The ghost theme in the celebrations has been carried down from the ancients who went festive on a large scale to beguile the witches and evil spirits of the time. However, hilarious as some of our celebrations may be, they could hardly hold a candle, so to speak, to the wild orgies of pre-Christian times.

First Penny Post

ONE USUALLY ASSOCIATES THE introduction of penny postage with the general mechanical advances of the middle of the last century. Actually there was a penny post in London during the reign of Charles II, and—what seems still more marvelous in these days—collections and deliveries every hour. One of the stamps used has just been discovered in London. It is very like modern post-marks, triangular in shape, the triangle enclosing the words "Penny Post Paid." Only eight of these stamps are known to survive.

This first cheap post was a private concern. For one penny, letters and parcels up to a pound in weight were collected, insured to the value of £10 ($50), and delivered in London and its vicinity. The success of the venture was immediate, and His Majesty's Postal Service took steps to end this glaring abuse of its monopoly. The private postmaster was brought into court, charged with infringing the Duke of York's patent. His service was taken over by the government and thoroughly clipped of its advantages. Not till 90 years ago was the penny post reintroduced, and it survived only until the Great War. It is now three halfpence in Britain—three cents in Canada, except purely local.

If Orson Welles had only held his H. G. Wells radio dramatization until this evening, it might have gone over as a mere Hallowe'en joke.

"Nations," says the new York World-Telegram, "simply are not willing to go to war in defence of democracy or any other ideal in the abstract." This was proved through the failure of the League of Nations and has been the fundamental fact determining the recent trend of affairs in Europe.

With price control for public utilities being the order of the new day in British Columbia, Port Alberni wants sawdust added to the list of monopoly essentials that are to come under Dr. Carrothers' regulatory commission. "It does seem strange," says the West Coast Advocate, "that in a sawmill town such as Port Alberni the retail price of this waste product should be almost twice that paid by consumers in Vancouver and Victoria."

WHOSE FREEDOM OF SPEECH?

In Toronto Minister of Justice Lapointe said some good things about freedom of speech. He was getting an honorary degree from the University of Toronto. Said he: "Enslavement of a nation's intellectual life is a disaster altogether beyond assessment. The minds of future generations are starved and poisoned. The menace to the peace of the world would be far less serious if the universities of certain lands had not first been stripped and gagged, and had not been deprived of the most precious privilege of democracy, namely the right to dissent."

All true. But that most "precious privilege of democracy" cannot be the privilege only of our halls of learning. It must extend all through the national life; to the obscure as well as to the famous, to the poor as well as to the rich. It is with no desire to be offensive that we have to remind Mr. Lapointe that, to mean something, this great privilege of which he speaks must extend to those who have been, and who continue to be, the victims of Quebec's Padlock law.

That law, unfortunately, was not disallowed by Minister of Justice Lapointe. It was not even referred by him to the Supreme Court for a test of its validity.

Across the Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

DIRTY WEATHER

THE WEATHER TURNED suddenly dirty in the Legislature at the week-end. This is an atmospheric phenomenon peculiar to these regions. There is nearly always a squall on Friday—usually manufactured synthetically, to impress the week-end newspaper readers.

Two gentlemen contributed their breath with gusto to the wind. Mr. Murray blew first and blew pretty bitterly, quickly altering the mild, balmy weather we had enjoyed all week. He blew chiefly in the direction of Mr. Winch, and that young gentleman was not slow in retorting with a blast still sharper and more cutting, so the first week-end with a low barometer and the storm signals flying.

Mr. Murray loves to paint on a large canvas. Empires and continents are not too big for him and he follows the impressionist school. His pictures are big and bold, but there isn't much detail in them.

His speech was heavy with a sense of destiny. It ranged from the steppes of Asia and the peaks of the Himalayas to the warm valleys of our own Dry Belt. It was designed to show against the background of larger world movements the fate, the future and the opportunity of British Columbia. And while there is a certain fuzziness to all this, there is a big idea also and a gift of imagination.

STRANGE DUEL

BUT MR. MURRAY had smaller tasks to perform closer to home. He had volunteered for the job of telling off Mr. Winch in advance, of undermining him before he could get started. Mr. Winch, he intimated pretty clearly, had been spreading Communism in the interior of the province by showing movies of a May Day parade in Vancouver, in which Premier Chamberlain of Britain had been ridiculed.

To prove it, Mr. Murray produced photographs from the movie and distributed them—a dramatic touch which so affected Mr. Tom King that he fell from his seat and sprawled on the carpet with a startling clatter. As Mr. Murray observed, it was the first time a speech in this House had knocked an audience out of its chair.

Mr. Winch, of course, had more than Mr. Murray in mind. At the opening of this session he muttered darkly that the C.C.F. would be the real opposition. His job yesterday was to prove it, to exceed the protests of the Conservatives, to out-herd Mr. Maitland.

He succeeded quite well. The first speech of any damage to the ministry undoubtedly came from the young man who hopes not only to make the C.C.F. the real opposition, but himself the opposition leader, and eventually, perhaps, the premier.

For Mr. Murray he had a studied scorn and some documentary evidence, suggesting that both these gentlemen knew in advance that they would quarrel. His documentary evidence was a copy of Mr. Murray's weekly newspaper, published in Lillooet, containing a report of the May Day movies full of errors, including the statement that Mr. Winch was at the parade in Vancouver when he was in Cumberland. The House could only wonder whether it mattered much either way.

THE BOY CROWS UP

MR. WINCH WAS MUCH BETTER as he got down to the serious job of opening the Socialist attack on the government, and proving that the C.C.F. is the real opposition. He has improved vastly, of course, since he entered this House, a brash and rather noisy boy, smarting from an unfortunate contact with life. He is more mellow now, surer of himself, perhaps not so sure that the other fellows are all villains.

The Liberals are beginning to like Mr. Winch. Doubtless he will consider it libelous if you say he is beginning to like the Liberals just a little; but it is probably true. Certainly it improves his deportment in these premises—makes him far more effective. He used to irritate the government like a mosquito—a few stings, but nothing serious. Now you have to take notice of him.

As usual, he had been burning the midnight electricity and discovered, by a search of British history, that the immortal rights of British parliaments had been thrown away on the opening day when the Premier, instead of the Speaker, accompanied the Lieutenant-Governor into the House. Only the Speaker may admit the King or his representative, said Mr. Winch—a principle established when the first Charles arrested members of the British House. The Premier did not seem disturbed by this discovery and the rest of the House heard this serious revelation with remarkable composure.

VEHEMENT FLAME

IT WAS ON the unemployment problem that Mr. Winch began to show that passion, that hatred of the present economic system, that devotion to the class war which usually brings out a real eloquence in this surprising young man, a kind of fierce inner flame which threatens at times to consume him altogether.

Bitter and hurried out between clenched teeth was his explanation of the unemployed men's sit-down strike. They had merely imitated, said he, the habits of Canadian governments by sitting down in a public building and doing nothing. Passionate was his description of the riot and the tear gas, stark his story of Blubber Bay, moving his plea for submerged thousands of our population.

When he was finished, the House realized that the opening amenities were definitely over, that we had started the rough and tumble of what may prove a fairly rough session.

BEER AND WINE

To the Editor:—Some modifications of the Liquor Act seem definitely in the wind and, at the session across the Bay, the sale of beer and wine for consumption with meals may be legalized.

Although in effect there is little to choose between the alcoholic action of beer, wine, or spirits, somehow or other during the past 20 years beer interests have become muddled with the militant forces of temperance, so that their voices are indistinguishable.

The old barroom, in which the total sales averaged 75 per cent beer, has been abolished and replaced by government protection of the sales are 100 per cent beer. As no food may be sold to satisfy the alcoholic stimulant to appetite, more beer must be drunk. Hurrah No. 2 for the brewers! By law, he who would drink may purchase what he likes and swallow it where he will in private, but conviviality is so inseparable an adjunct of human nature that the trend is to the beer parlors; so hurrah again and again for the jolly old brewers!

But, seriously, why are they being allowed to get away with this when beer and wine through-out the civilized world have their proper place only as the incidentals of a good meal?

YOUTHFUL MISBEHAVIOR

To the Editor:—The residents of Victoria are to be congratulated on our consistent regard for law and order. Unfortunately, there is a small, youthful element which periodically makes itself evident by any means of destruction of property, both private and civic. A section of this youthful element demonstrated its ability on Wednesday evening by smashing a light lath rose trellis I had along the front of my property line. The cost of replacing the damage is insignificant, but I would willingly offer a reward of $10 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of these youths.

This vandalism prevails at all times, all over the city. It is evident in the theft of flowers from private and public grounds; in the destruction of city light globes and auto signs, and in many other ways. Every reasonable citizen knows that our splendid police cannot be everywhere at the same time. The point I want to bring out is that it is every good citizen's moral duty to identify these destructive youths and report to the authorities. Destruction of property is often witnessed and no action is taken. When action is taken and report made and the vandalistic gang is made to pay for the damage done, I am sure that it will become less frequent.

I am not alone in my appeal that all citizens of Victoria keep their eyes and ears open and watch for this type of hooliganism.

HAROLD O. SIMPSON.

TOO MANY OLD MEN

To the Editor:—Although an American—but native-born Victorian, I got a great kick out of a recent announcement in the local paper, that among matters of moment in the province they are going to bring up in the Legislature provision for old men over 75 years of age, now holding government jobs. Can you beat it? In the first place, what man of 75 is capable of holding a job, and in the second, at that age if they have not made provision for the future, what about the "old-age pension"? I'll guarantee these government pets are not working for any $100 a month, like thousands of poor devils who have to support families as well. No, sir; it's fine for the Liberal government to donate the public monies so freely, but there's a limit.

Come on, Victoria, wake up! Don't let it be said that the Liberal government supports an old man's home. Cut out the deadwood and give the younger men a chance.

BROWN AND GOLDEN DAYS

From Ladysmith Chronicle
The hillside forests have assumed their brown and golden manner, and the weather—subject to change without notice—continues to be that mild summery afterthought that bathes the countryside in color and light.

The birds—those we welcomed in their northward flight in spring—are back again, with droves of young strangers that never passed this way before. Very soon, with a sad melancholy that is just as urgent as their vernal whims, our poets will mark the flight of geese at eventide, and our more prosaic and practical citizens will cast calculating eyes on the fuel storage.

Endless adventure marks this change of seasons, and the fresh one arrives in time to save us from the boredom of the old.

20 Years President

By PROFESSOR W. T. ALLISON
In Winnipeg Tribune

IT WAS CHANCE that made Sir Edward Beatty a lawyer and a railman, that set his foot on the ladder that led to the presidency of the Canadian Pacific Railway 20 years ago today. And next Sunday the bachelor president will be 61.

Beatty himself once explained it this way: "My elder brother was to study law and I was to be a doctor. Then he decided to study medicine, and I said: 'All right, I'll study law.' So I started to study law."

"And became president of the Canadian Pacific Railway?" someone put in.

"Well," added Beatty, smiling, "I might have made a darned poor doctor."

And, though it may sound apocryphal, that brother, Dr. H. A. Beatty, is now chief surgeon of the company which the younger Beatty heads.

On this Thanksgiving Day, 20 years after, Sir Edward is no doubt thankful that he can look back over two decades of arduous service as chief of the greatest transportation system in the world. He has enjoyed excellent health and already has exceeded his predecessors in length of tenure of office. Lord Mount Stephen was president seven years, Sir William Van Horne 11 and Lord Shaughnessy 19 years. Altogether Sir Edward has served the C.P.R. for 37 years.

Sir Edward's apprenticeship lasted much longer than Jacob toiled for the hand of Rachel. Entering the legal department of the C.P.R. shortly after he was called to the bar, he worked early and late, and when, after 13 years, he became general counsel to the company, he thought he had attained the summit of his ambition.

I have been informed by a mutual friend who roomed in the same house with this corporation lawyer that Beatty was such a slave to his desk that he brought work home with him from the office almost every night. For years the only leisure he allowed himself was on Sunday morning. He denied himself social relaxation. He kept himself in fit physical condition by playing handball and boxing. But even then, if he had not come of good, solid Ulster stock, he would certainly have broken down under the terrific strain during those 17 years.

Sir Edward once told me that he never had any idea of becoming president of the road. It was a tradition in the C.P.R. that a practical railroad man, one who had come through the operating side of the system, should be chief. But Lord Shaughnessy was a great admirer of Beatty's industry, mastery of detail, common sense and tact. In his "Steel of Empire," Murray Gibson relates that about a year before Lord Shaughnessy retired he was on a tour of inspection with several directors, including General Counsel E. W. Beatty. In answer to an inquiry as to what the C.P.R. proposed to do about a certain work, he replied, "I could probably answer your question, but there is a young fellow further down the platform who could tell you a whole lot of things about the C.P.R. that I couldn't tell you." The young fellow was Beatty.

And it was the strong recommendation of Shaughnessy that lifted the 41-year-old general counsel to the presidency of a transportation system which operated 21,667 miles of track, which had fleets of cargo and passenger steamships on the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Great Lakes, which owned 49 per cent of the largest mining concerns in Canada, the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, which had a string of luxurious hotels, and possessed a vast acreage of land in western Canada.

The public gasped with astonishment when it was reported that this, one of the most responsible positions in the world, should have been given to such a young man, but E. W. Beatty was probably more surprised than they.

The employees of the C.P.R. had confidence in the young president. During troublous years when economies were forced upon him, Beatty was obliged to reduce the staff, but he always did so with great reluctance. Grant Hall, who went from Winnipeg to be vice-president in Montreal, used to tell a story which illustrates the president's humanity. Hall had been ordered to cut down expenses at the Angus shops. The only way he could do so was to lay off a number of men. When he took a list of the unemployed to Beatty it happened to be a day when a blizzard was raging. Beatty heard Hall's story. He marched up and down looking out of the window. At last he said, "This is a helluva day to let men out, Grant! Let's forget it!"

E. W. Beatty and I together attended Harbord Collegiate Institute in Toronto, and later were

AN AWAKENING NATIONAL SPIRIT

To the Editor:—It must be practically recognized that there are vast empty spaces in the Dominion where millions more could be assured of asylum and the opportunity to make a new life for themselves.

The incredible dillydallying for years of the federal government in the matter of the employable unemployed has created an element in the community which will probably always be on relief. Canada's salvation as a nation lies in a return to the migration policy of Sir Clifford Sifton, a Liberal of great administrative ability who believed that Canada's greatest need was more settlers to properly develop her abounding natural resources.

MALCOLM CAMERON.

"MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING"

To the Editor:—It is perhaps fortunate that the world, or rather the destiny of the human race does not rest on the activity or lack of it, displayed by the Young Citizens' League—the self-appointed slayer of what, in its childishness, it calls Communism. It is quite possible this organization with ecclesiastical backing, in its own peculiar way, means well, and may sincerely believe that some omnipotent power has entrusted it with the ridiculous task of ridding the world of intimate friends when we were students at Toronto University. We first practiced public speaking in a room over a bank at the corner of Spadina Avenue and College Street.

In those formative years, I liked him for his equable temperament, and he was always modest and unassuming.

something which does not exist. It seems rather a pity that this organization is incapable of recognizing the universal law of change, because it points to the fact that its observational powers are of a lowly order. It was Shakespeare, we believe, who made use of the phrase: "Much Ado About Nothing," and perhaps he meant what he said.

Large Tree Snake Found in Bananas

A four-and-a-half-foot Central American wood snake was found in a shipment of bananas to Ryan Wilson Co. Saturday morning. The species of snake is not believed to be poisonous, but is one of the fastest moving snakes known.

The snake is a bright green, and according to Dr. Ian M. Cowan, assistant director at the Provincial Museum, is one of a sub-species of the Brazilian Sipo, that live in the trees.

Grant Johnson found it as the shipment of bananas was being unloaded at the warehouse on lower Yates Street.

At the museum it took over five minutes to kill the snake with chloroform, it being sluggish because of the cool temperature it had been in during the trip here.

Beaux-Arts to Stage Halloween Party

It's "Fire Hall Tonight" at the Beaux-Arts Clubrooms, corner of Duchess and Leighton Streets, when the Halloween party gets under way at 8.30 this evening. The committee in charge, under the chairmanship of Miss Ann Crockett, announces all arrangements complete for an exciting evening of spooks and games, which will usher in the new dance floor installed last week. This is the club's first party in the old City Fire Hall, which has been renovated and furnished by the members to act as a centre for classes and social activities. Latest dance recordings will be available for members and friends attending tonight's party, and during the evening a prize will be awarded to the person wearing the most dilapidated costume. The small admission includes refreshments, and it is hoped that a goodly sum will be raised to help the club's drive for house furnishings.

WEDDINGS

KNIGHT-ROSMAN

A wedding was quietly solemnized yesterday evening at 8.30 of Martha Evelyn, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rosman, 1321 Rudlin Street, Victoria, and Mr. Frederick George William Knight, and son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Knight of Kent, Eng. Rev. A. E. Hendy officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a princess gown of white satin with a long train and long pointed sleeves extending from a lace yoke finished with an Elizabethan collar caught at the neck with a rhinestone clasp. Her embroidered veil fell from a Queen Anne coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet with Calla lilies and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Verna Moore was maid of honor, and wore a frock of pale blue net over blue taffeta with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. Miss Grace Minnette was the bridesmaid in a frock of pink net over pink satin, and matching hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Little Mary Lou Donnelly was flower girl, and wore a Kate Greenaway frock of pale green point d'esprit over satin. Her headdress was a bandeau of green satin ribbon and pink forget-me-nots. She carried a silver basket of pink chrysanthemums tied with a pink tulle bow. Mr. William Rosman, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. A. Denton, and as the register was being signed Mr. Bobbie Hensen sang "O Promise Me."

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Rudlin Street, during which the bride and groom stood in the drawing-room, which was prettily decorated with white roses, maidenhair fern and white bells and baskets of autumn chrysanthemums. Mrs. Rosman received the guests in a navy blue crepe trimmed with sheer cut velvet, blue hat and blue accessories. In the absence of the groom's mother, Mrs. J. Newbiging assisted in receiving the guests in a gown of navy blue lace over white with black accessories. They both wore corsages of Ophelia roses and pink carnations.

The supper table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with the wedding cake, which stood in folds of white tulle studded with pink carnations. At each corner were silver vases of pink roses and maidenhair fern, and pink tapers in silver holders. Mrs. G. Anderson, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. A. Sparrow, Mrs. W. Clements, Miss A. Smith and Miss Helen Thakray assisted in serving the guests.

For traveling the bride chose a rust boucle knitted suit over a white satin blouse, with navy blue felt tricorn hat with a nose veil and navy blue accessories and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. After a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Knight will return to Victoria, and will be at home to their friends on Rudlin Street, for a short time before sailing to England, where they will make their future home.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. G. Anderson, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. C. Sampson, Messrs. Harold and William Sampson, Mr. Eric Nelson, Ganges; Mr. and Mrs. W. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Lillian Beckett, who wore a frock of teal blue silk crepe with matching hat and wine accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink rosebuds and violets. Mr. Bruce Barwick supported his brother.

Relatives and close friends were entertained later at the home of the bride's parents, where a three-tier cake centred the supper table, standing between pink tapers and rosebuds. During the evening Miss Ruth Barclay entertained with several piano selections.

The young couple left by the midnight boat for the mainland. For travelling the bride donned a rust fur-trimmed swag coat. Mr. and Mrs. Barwick will reside in Victoria.

JUDD-LARSON

The wedding of Helen Margaret, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Larson, Vancouver, to Alfred George Judd, son of Mr. H. F. Judd and the late Mrs. Judd, of Portland, Oregon, was solemnized on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Horel, The Divide, Salt Spring Island. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. J. Thompson of Ganges, at 8.30 p.m.

CANN-CUDLIP

One of the most interesting weddings of the fall season took place on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. W. H. Cullin, 144 Wellington Avenue, when Margaret Eleanor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Cudlip, 1146 Hilda Street, became the bride of Mr. Shirley Ormiston Cann, second son of Mrs. Cann, 1624 Camuson Street, and of the late Mr. William Cann. Rev. J. W. L. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a radiant figure in her floor-length gown of crown sapphire blue velvet, with high unbelted waistline attached to a full shirred bodice, and having short puffed sleeves lined with matching taffeta. A deep inset of cream Guipure lace formed the square neckline and the two panels over the shoulders. In harmony with the noyenne effect of the gown the bride wore a Juliet cap of matching blue velvet bordered with a spray of white gardenias.

She carried a shower bouquet of pale pink rosebuds, pink Laddie carnations and fern, tied with tiny bows and carnation petals.

Miss Victoria Sangster was the bridesmaid in a graceful gown of ruby velvet, with a draped bodice and cowl neckline caught on each shoulder with a wide diamante band. Her matching Watteau hat of grosgrain ribbon was adorned with two velvet flowers, and ribbon ties were caught at the back and fell to the floor. She carried a sheaf of champagne-colored chrysanthemums. Mr. Lloyd Cann supported his brother.

The young couple stood between two tall standard baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies to receive the felicitations of their friends. Mrs. Cudlip wore a floor-length gown of black velvet, with black lace jacket trimmed with velvet, and a black tuban hat with a plume, and the groom's mother was in a smart frock of aubergine silk crepe, with a fur felt hat en suite, their corsage bouquets being of pale pink rosebuds and carnations.

Supper was served from a table covered with an Italian cut-work cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted by an ornament which had decorated the wedding cake of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. Surpliss, and that of the golden wedding anniversary of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and the late Mrs. W. H. Cullin. Lighted white tapers in cutglass holders and vases of rosebuds at each corner completed the table decorations. The

Mothers' Union at Jubilee Service

About 100 members attended a special service in the Cathedral Friday as part of the Dominion-wide Jubilee celebrations of the Mothers' Union. The service was conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Elliott.

He referred to the growing membership of the Mothers' Union, which extends to many countries, and enlarged upon the obligations of mothers in view of the fact that children are given to them as a sacred trust. Lack of religious training in schools places added responsibility on parents. Parents must endeavour to place before their children, from their earliest years, a true Christian example, showing in their own lives and in the atmosphere of the home the comfort of prayer and Bible reading. Christian precepts will then have a firm foundation and life's temptations can be confidently faced and overcome, he maintained.

The service closed with the new Mothers' Union hymn.

The members of the executive and visiting members from up-land branches were later entertained to tea by Mrs. Elliott.

Hallowe'en Parties Held at 'Y'

Gay Hallowe'en decorations made the Y.W.C.A. club rooms a delightful setting for two masquerade parties on Thursday and Friday evenings. The Senior Girls' Council was in charge of the first and over 75 girls came to join in the fun. In the games and contests which took place the "skulls" proved themselves the winners. Folk dancing and the "ghost walk" brought the evening programme to a close after which refreshments were served. The sale of candy by the Y.Owenca and also of refreshments was most successful, the proceeds going towards the Spokane fund and service work.

In the same setting the Junior Hi-Y's were hostesses to their friends and also the members of the Y.T.A. The costumes were very good, in fact so good that the judges had quite a time to make a decision. Games, folk dancing and ghost stories made up the entertaining program. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by the Junior Hi-Y's, and the singing of "Taps" marked the end of a delightful party.

There will be no regular meeting of the Senior Business Club or the Y.Owenca Club tonight but regular activities will resume on November 7. Tomorrow, the Junior Business Club will hold a Hallowe'en social. Members of the Versatile Club are reminded of the musical evening this Thursday. Also meeting on Thursday will be the Blue Triangle and the Live Y's. Hi-Y groups meeting on Friday at the "Y" are the Junior Hi-Y's at 7.30 and the Y.Y.A.'s at 7.45. Esquimalt Hi-Y girls are asked to remember the meeting on Tuesday at 3.45 when a report of the Spokane conference will be given.

STRIKING TESTS REVEAL HOW RECENTLY IMPROVED SOAP WASHES CLOTHES SHADES WHITER

THERE are many discoveries that are far less exciting, but few of greater importance in making life more enjoyable than the discovery of "scrubless" soap. One of the most outstanding of the "save work" soaps is the granulated soap, Rinso, which has helped so greatly to do away with the hard work of washday.

A new principle
For years Rinso has given millions of women whiter, brighter washes without scrubbing or boiling. It has done this by producing rich, lively suds that soak out the dirt — gently and safely — leaving out imbedded particles — and leaving to the housewife the comparatively easy job of scrubbing a few stubborn edges, rinsing and hanging out a dazzling white and much brighter wash.

The effectiveness of Rinso suds has been so marked that the makers of 26 famous washers have long recommended this soap above all others.

A further advancement
Recently the makers of Rinso announced that they had improved their soap. By actual test it was proven that the New Rinso gives, cup for cup, over 25% more suds than the old. These suds are longer-lasting and faster-acting, too. The New Rinso gives suds that last nearly

Women are amazed to see how many shades whiter the New Rinso washes clothes in comparison with old-type soaps.

one-third longer than ordinary suds. What a blessing that is in hard water areas!

The New Rinso in comparison to old-fashioned soaps washes clothes brighter and at least 5 shades whiter with perfect safety.

The discovery of New Rinso may not rate a mention in the history books, but to millions of women it means better washday results, economy, freedom from hard work washdays.

Dr. R. M. Petrie Talks to Men's Guild

At the last meeting of St. Mary's Men's Guild Dr. R. M. Petrie of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory gave an enlightening talk on "The Origin of the Solar System."

Dr. Petrie explained the various theories of the system's origin which were believed at various times prior to the turn of the century. All these theories, he showed, were untenable in the light of more modern thought and the application of newly discovered mechanical laws. The present belief, he said, leaned toward the collision theory, but left many unexplained questions yet to be solved.

Vice-president Brock and the Guild gave Dr. Petrie a strong vote of thanks at the conclusion of his address.

The next meeting of the Guild will be on October 10.

Victoria Girls On Quiz Program

Victoria received publicity Friday when two young Victorians, Miss Honor Benson and Miss Roseanna Gillespie appeared on the "Listen to the Quiz" program, broadcast over Canadian and United States networks from San Francisco.

Miss Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Benson, and Miss Gillespie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Gillespie, are motoring in California with Mr. and Mrs. William C. Todd. Being in San Francisco yesterday they made immediate arrangements to visit the broadcasting studio and appear on the program.

Miss Benson, being quizzed by the announcer, said she was from Victoria, B.C., and when asked for what this city was chiefly noted, she replied, "Well, perhaps for its old-world atmosphere."

Both young ladies acquitted themselves well with the questions asked them.

A purse-snatching by two youths at Burdett Avenue and Cook Street Friday night was investigated by city police. Victim of the theft was Mrs. E. Cauture, 314 Cook Street, who said as she was walking along Cook Street two youths unsuccessfully attempted to trip her then grabbed her purse and ran. There was nothing of value except a few personal belongings in the purse.

Ratepayers Seek West Coast Road

The Victoria Ratepayers' Association, at a meeting in the City Hall Friday night, laid plans for public meetings next month at which speakers on public issues will be heard, went on record favoring an immediate start on the proposed West Coast Road and recommended appointment by the city of a solicitor, capable of handling the city's business as far as possible without the necessity of employing outside professional assistance.

On the West Coast Road issue, the ratepayers decided to forward to island representatives and influential organizations a copy of their resolution showing the advantages to Victoria of such a highway.

'Y' ACTIVITIES

A course in weight lifting and wrestling has been organized at the Y.M.C.A. weight-lifting classes will be held on Monday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 7.30 and on Saturday afternoons from 4 to 6. The wrestling classes will be held each Tuesday and Friday evenings from 6 to 7.30.

New weights have been donated by the instructors, Fred and Rudy Loeffler, who will also supervise the wrestling classes. A progressive program to suit each individual will be adopted. The Loeffler brothers have long been members of the "Y" and have stacked up many credits for the institution in wrestling and other activities.

Fred Loeffler held the B.C. amateur wrestling championship at 158 pounds in 1930 and was previously the provincial lightweight champ.

Rudy Loeffler has taken the B.C. amateur wrestling championships for the last five years in classes ranging from 123 pounds to 148 pounds.

Registrations will be received at the "Y" office, with further particulars about each course.

Gordon Taylor was named president of the "Y" Swimming Leaders' Corps at a meeting held recently. Don Davidson was elected vice-president and Percy Riddle, secretary-treasurer. Dennis Walker was chosen as honorary president.

In addition to the election of officers, copies of the new leaders' constitution were distributed, and the group decided to meet again on Thursday night next at 8.15.

At this meeting, pool supervision and teaching methods will be discussed.

A four-team basketball league has been organized at the Y.M.C.A., in the young men's classes. Games will be played every Tuesday and Friday at 9.15. Harold Alexander is registering players now, and teams will be picked next Tuesday night at 9.15.

A renewed interest in gymnastics in the young men's classes of the "Y," which are held every Tuesday and Friday evenings at 8.15, has necessitated a change in policy, namely graded classes.

The senior Leaders' Corps, under Jack Allison, will put the group through a short test on Tuesday evening, and from then on, the classes will be held in graded groups.

Each group will be segregated according to acrobatic skill, and each member will be given a chance to advance to a more progressive squad.

"SHIPS THAT PASS IN THE NIGHT"

DARKNESS shrouds the passing of many ships at sea. Faint silhouettes in the moonlight, they loom for a moment and are gone... often unknown in name and destination.

Yet the lifting dawn identifies these carriers of modern trade. One, perhaps, is a sleek-lined, diesel-driven motorship, heading up the Pacific for Vancouver... the other a dirty, smoke-grimed freighter, Panama-bound, with a deck-load of British Columbia lumber. One brings cargo to Vancouver... the other takes cargo away.

Behind the drive of their propellers is more than just steam or oil. It is the force of trade that sends them swiftly and surely on their way. The lumber loading in British Columbia ports today is sold only after years of patient sales effort and the perseverance of British Columbia lumbermen in the world's competitive markets. In the chain of action that draws great ships to the harbours of British Columbia, the first impulse is often struck months before by trade emissaries in distant parts of the world.

Significant of the efforts of British Columbia's lumber industry to build overseas trade was the recent visit to this province of more than forty leading timber importers from Great Britain and France. Buyers of much of the vast lumber requirements of their countries, these men came more than 7,000 miles to see, at first hand, the great timber resources and the operations of the lumber industry in British Columbia.

As the softwood storehouse of the British Empire, this province will play an increasingly important part in the scheme of Empire-trade. That so many overseas timbermen have come to British Columbia and viewed, under friendly auspices, the operations of our lumber industry, is an achievement that will produce results of lasting benefit to British Columbia.

Thus, with the passing of ships in the night, the bonds of Empire grow, to strengthen the clasp of hands across the sea.

Alpines Turn Back Dominoes

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

AMONG THE NUMEROUS recreational pursuits that have been attracting many more Victorians — especially those who spend most of their working hours pushing a pen in downtown offices — is the game of badminton. The shuttle and racket game has made great strides in this city during the last five or six years and today there is believed to be 50 per cent more people engaging in this healthful sport than in the late 1920's.

In Victoria and the surrounding districts there are upward of 25 clubs, the majority of them small, but nevertheless just as active. It is estimated that the combined membership of all the clubs would overtake the 1,000 mark. In the two local clubs, Victoria and Willows, the combined membership reaches close to 400, including juniors.

The biggest increase in members locally was noticed in 1935, 1936, and 1937, persons connected with clubs reported. This year the increase in membership has not measured up to that of the three previous years, but there is, however, still a noticeable upward trend. The majority of clubs in Victoria and district have had their courts open for play for several weeks now, but they will not usher in their bids for honors in the Vancouver Island Badminton League for a couple of weeks or so.

Although the more recent development of outdoor badminton has made the sport an all-weather one, the indoor variety — the original and most popular division of the game — still predominates.

Badminton was first played in England in the year 1873, but before that it was played in India, where it is still popular. The sport really only began to get under way in Canada about 1925, while the United States didn't take to the game until later than that, as it was generally considered a "kids' game." Badminton is going great guns south of the border now, however.

R. J. C. "Bob" Smith shows an article, recently published, which quotes Jack Purcell, world professional badminton champion. Purcell notes that since 1925 Canada has produced players of the highest calibre in the world. "I would say that badminton is now Canada's second-ranking, individual sport, placing next to golf; in the fall it draws sports-minded people from the ranks of both golf and tennis, and other sports, too, since it comes at a time when there is no competitive sports activities," he says.

Mount Tolmie and Navy Are Victors

Mount Tolmie and Navy footballers registered victories in Merchants' Football League fixtures Saturday afternoon.

The Tolmie boys took the measure of Conservatives 6 to 3 at Central Park. In the first half the lead changed hands three times, with the score at the interval reading 3 to 3. In the final half the mountaineers banged home three markers without a return. Hayward and Harper each accounted for a pair of Tolmie goals and the others were tallied by Williams and Duncan. Tutill notched two of the Conservative goals and Baker rammed in the third.

P. J. Woodley refereed. At Victoria High School grounds Navy registered a 6 to 1 victory over Admirals. It was a fast, clean game all the way. W. Hutton refereed.

Local Cagers Drop First Game of Season to Smart Seattle Team 28 to 25

Forging into the lead with a great third-quarter drive led by giant Ivar Nelson and the smooth-dribbling Tommy Werner, Seattle Alpine Dairy whipped the Dominoes 28 to 25 at the High School gym on Saturday night in their exhibition basketball game. It marked the first setback for the locals in six starts.

Feelings ran high all evening and really broke into the open in the wild third quarter. Art Chapman, Dominoes' centre, and Nelson, gangling forward and former member of Washington State College, came to blows when Chapman was kicked in the forehead, after being knocked down in a scramble for the ball. After the referees had called a double foul the boys shook hands. Later in the quarter Referee Joe Murray of Seattle called a technical foul on the crowd for continuous booing when one of the visiting players was taking a free shot.

Individual stars of the game were Hank Rowe, who dropped through 10 points for the Dominoes, in one of the grandest exhibitions of sniping seen at the gym for some time, and Tommy Werner. The latter proved one of the smoothest ball handlers seen here in many a day. He had perfect control of the leather at all times and his dribbling and smart passing was pretty to watch.

SMART CLUB

The Alpines presented a big team that controlled the centre jump and the majority of the rebounds off the backboards. The Dominoes played well but found themselves up against a plenty tough combination. They lost nothing in defeat, going under before a smart aggregation.

Both clubs opened cautiously and points in the first quarter were few and far between. Rowe electrified the crowd by dropping home a pair of brilliant baskets in the first couple of minutes. Seattle called time out after six minutes Arne Faust snared the opening basket for Alpines to end the scoring for the quarter. Teams continued to play stiff checking basketball in the second quarter and few points were made with the Dominoes holding a 9 to 8 edge at the half.

It was the third quarter that saw Alpines put on their winning drive. Nelson opened by tying the score. Tom Werner made it 11 to 9 for the visitors, only to have Rowe deadlock the count with a pot from in front. Tommy Werner converted a free throw and Faust sank one from the side to put Seattle ahead 14 to 11. Nelson leaped high in the air to drop the ball through in front and it was 16 to 11. Two free throws by Tom Werner brought the count to 18 to 11. Rowe made it 18 to 13, but Nelson canned a one-hander to give Alpines a 20 to 13 lead at the three-quarter mark.

Although Alpines lost Nelson on personals in the final quarter they managed to hold off a last desperate rally of the Dominoes. Dominoes had 11 fouls called against them and Seattle 10. Out of 14 line throws apiece, Seattle scored six and the Dominoes five.

Bill Levy and Joe Murray refereed.

Play swung see-saw fashion in the early part of the game, but after 15 minutes the Wanderers turned on the heat and for the remainder of the half engineered a series of stiff raids, two of which terminated with players crossing the line with the ball. Paddy Colthurst, elongated forward, and Brent Murdoch accounted for the tries and Campbell Forbes converted the former's. This made the score read 8 to 0 for the Wanderers at the half.

GETS REAL TEST TOMORROW NIGHT—Billy Buxton, Victoria's great featherweight, above, will find out just how far he is going in the boxing game when he battles Danny LaVerne, San Francisco, tomorrow night at Seattle on the Al Hostak-Solly Krieger card. This will be Buxton's first major bout since he had his left hand repaired. If Billy's mitts hold up he will be set for an extensive campaign against the best "feathers" on the continent.

Smoother J.B.A.A. Squad 16 to 3 to Take Lead in Senior Rugby Race; Garrison Whip Scottish

By handing Bob McInnes' J.B.A.A. rugger a 16 to 3 drubbing—an outcome that knocked pre-game predictions for a close fight for a series of loops—Wally Brynjolfsson's powerful Oak Bay Wanderers machine clambered up the ladder to cop the top roost in the Barnard Cup race for city seniors laurels Saturday afternoon at Macdonald Park.

Battling on the lower layout at the same park, Garrison fifteen, over for the first time this season, managed to nose through with a 6 to 3 decision over Canadian Scottish. The Scots put up a grand fight against their heavier, older and more experienced opposition.

Intermediate games resulted in the leading Oak Bay Wanderers whitewashing Navy Blues 16 to 0, and Canadian Scottish blanking Navy Whites 11 to 0.

On paper the James Bay crew looked like an outfit that could give any other machine produced locally a keen fight. But their Saturday performance against the Oak Bay oval ball carriers was a badly off-color one, and the opposition literally ran rings around them. Wanderers worked quite smoothly in all departments and fully deserved victory.

The Oak Bay forwards functioned exceedingly well in loose scrum formation and gained much valuable yardage with the ball at their feet. In tight scrums, however, they were beaten 80 per cent of the time. But the effectiveness of the James Bay's scrum work was offset by Alec Anderson, Wanderers' half-back. He watched George Langdon, opposing half-back, like a hawk. Every time Langdon got the leather from the pack Anderson pounced on him. Consequently his throws to the standoff were wild, thus spoiling what might have proved dangerous forays. Wanderer forwards took advantage of the confusion on these occasions and surged forward to take the ball at their feet.

Play swung see-saw fashion in the early part of the game, but after 15 minutes the Wanderers turned on the heat and for the remainder of the half engineered a series of stiff raids, two of which terminated with players crossing the line with the ball. Paddy Colthurst, elongated forward, and Brent Murdoch accounted for the tries and Campbell Forbes converted the former's. This made the score read 8 to 0 for the Wanderers at the half.

Soon after the breather — 11 minutes — the striped-sweatered Oak Bay fifteen, still forcing the issue, widened their lead to 13 points when Tom Carney scored on a kick-and-follow-up play, and Grogan accomplished the conversion. It was at this time that more fight appeared in the J.B.A.A. team and at the halfway point in the half they finally went over for their only points. George Langdon took the ball over after "Red" Dalzell had carried it 15 yards before being grounded. Harry Barber, whose fine booting aided greatly in the first try, and who gave valuable assistance in the movement that resulted in the second try, scored the final points for the Wanderers close to the final whistle. Adams refereed.

TEAMS FOLLOW:

Oak Bay Wanderers—Acland, Ley, Guelph, Doswell, Stephens, Gornall, Colthurst, Anderson, B. Murdoch, Roberts, Barber, Brown, Carney and Grogan.

J.B.A.A.—Mair, Petticrew, Andrews, B. Anderson, Leighton, Dalzell, Bray, Simpson, Langdon, Halkett, Brown, Bridge, Smith, C. Doherty and Ferguson.

TWO PLAYERS INJURED

Injuries to Ken Buxton and Johnny Lee, Garrison players, featured the rugged battle between Wanderers and Scots on the lower pitch. The injuries, however, were not serious.

The Scottish posted a 3 to 0 lead in the first half on Albie Williams' successful "gratis" kick, but the redshirts from the barracks came back strong in the second half to score six points and hold their opponents scoreless. The Garrison got their points through a free kick taken by Featherstone and try by Cockrill on a dribbling attack.

It was a rough and tumble battle all the way and although the Tommies had a slight edge in play, the gamely-fighting Highlanders, through the medium of fine tackling, defended their line very effectively.

SWEETMAN REFEREED.

Teams follow: Garrison — Featherstone, Martin, F. Pocock, S. Pocock, Carson, Polinsky, Buxton, "Dimpy" Wood, Hatch, Venus, P. J. Ford, Hipwood, Cockrill, B. Ford and Lee.

Canadian Scottish — Hamilton, Painter, DeMacedo, Narod, Hughes, Martin, Williams, Bray, Coomber, Warwick, Holyoake, Willard, Field, Draper and Pellett.

Esquimalt and Wests Victors

Score Easy Soccer Wins Against Thistles And Garrison

By scoring easy victories over Garrison and Saanich Thistles soccer clubs Saturday afternoon, Victoria West and Esquimalt squads now stand side by side in the top berth of the Saturday Soccer League.

The Victoria West team scored six goals to two against Garrison at the Athletic Park, and Esquimalt came out on the long end of a 5 to 1 score against Saanich Thistles at Heywood Avenue.

The Victoria West-Garrison game showed fuzzy play with few clean-cut combinations. The Wests were on the offensive for the greater part of the game, and when the army boys did get into their territory, the West defence had little trouble in breaking things up.

George Barnes, Wests' left wing, showed up well, scoring the only two goals of the first half. The first marker came about 10 minutes after the start, when Nip Sage fired one at the goal, missed, and Barnes made good. Barnes scored the second one on a pass from Nip Sage, a few minutes before the end of the half. The Garrison defence worked hard in holding the suburbs at bay, up to this point.

Garrison came out with guns aflaring in the second half, and tied things up in the course of about 10 minutes. The first goal was headed into the nets by Edwards, off a pass from Evans. The second was a hard drive from the boot of Edwards, centred by Evans.

With the score tied, both squads were fighting and the Wests finally broke through, scoring one to make it 3 to 2. Nip Sage was the scorer, with brother Harry adding another one for the Wests, a few minutes later, from a pass by Nip.

The fifth goal for the Wests was also scored by Harry Sage, who went through alone, and Nip Sage scored the final tally on a lateral pass from Barnes, in the closing minutes of play. Dows refereed.

Line-ups follow: Victoria West — T. Restall, Wright, R. Bell, Smith, C. Restall, R. Barnes, S. Smith, N. Sage, H. Sage, Morgan and G. Barnes.

Garrison — Elliott, Wilkinson, Cook, Stewart, Thompson, J. Watt, H. Bischoff, Worswick, S. Bischoff, Edwards and McAlister.

ESQUIMALT WIN

In scoring their 5 to 1 victory against the Thistles, Esquimalt looked strong throughout the game.

Gordie Bell, right wing for Esquimalt, fired one past goalie Webster, for the first marker, after about 10 minutes of play. Scotty Stewart followed up with another one after a passing march into the Thistles' territory by the Esquimalt forward line.

Saanich's lone goal came soon after when Tony Hope, right wing, blasted one at the mouth of the goal which glanced off a defencemen's boot, to slip by goalie Laird.

From then on, Esquimalt made numerous rushes on the Thistles' goal, and the Saanich defence weakened under the attacks.

Goalie Webster made save after save but couldn't hold one from Gordie Bell, which made the score 3 to 1. Seconds later, George Payne sank the fourth, and Jim Stewart scored the final marker about five minutes before the whistle, on a bullet-like shot from well out.

McKay refereed.

Esquimalt — Doug Laird, J. Watt, R. Moodie, C. Holt, T. Halkett, G. Cooper, G. Bell, "Scotty" Stewart, John Watt, J. Stewart and George Payne.

Saanich — D. Webster, P. Burgess, M. Bissedon, G. Mowatt, M. Spellef, G. Underwood, Tony Hope, G. Tregellis, T. Ono, T. Alexander and G. Robson.

Hockey Gossip

Professional hockey's warm-up campaign is drawing to a close with the rapid approach of the schedule opening Thursday, the earliest start in history. More than ever, the clubs have stressed exhibition games in the October preparations and New York's Rangers and Americans will have met six times when they finish their western tour tonight at Winnipeg.

The grind hasn't been exactly kind to the Americans. They have lost all five games thus far to their intercity rivals, and when they accepted the fifth straight beating Saturday night at Edmonton 5 to 3, they had to play without defencemen Joe Jervia and Al Murray and forwards Lorne Carr and Red Beattie. Jervia and Carr were out with injuries, while Murray and Beattie were suffering from colds.

Earl Robertson did a tidy job in the losers' nets, despite eight stitches in the neck which prevented him from dropping to the ice to save. Again the Ranger balance was to the fore as the five goals were spread all through the lineup.

Americans head south after tonight's contest to help the world champion Black Hawks open the schedule Thursday at Chicago. Rangers, last club to start, will play an exhibition the same night at St. Paul with that city's American Association team. Then they have to bide their time until November 13, when they meet the Red Wings at Detroit.

Montreal Canadiens, generally expected to be near the top of the league from the start, are going to have to learn all over again the manager's axiom: "You can't win a game in the penalty box. In a 2 to 1 victory over New Haven the other night, the Habits got into a punching bee. And when they tangled with Springfield Indians, another International-American outfit, last night at Shawinigan Falls, there were three fist fights. Canadiens won the game 7 to 1.

Toronto Maple Leafs and their Syracuse farm club broke up into teams of blue and whites again Saturday at Galt, Ont., as whites defeated blues 5 to 3. Red Horner and Bingo Kampman mixed a couple of times in shoving matches that earned them both penalties.

Mrs. R. F. Davy Heads Women Lawn Bowlers

Mrs. R. F. Davy was elected president of the Victoria Women's Lawn Bowling Club at the annual meeting held in the organization's headquarters, Mrs. H. McConnell was elected vice-president and Mrs. A. McKeachie secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee will be comprised of Mrs. F. A. Simmons, Mrs. B. Munro, Mrs. Howard Leggett, Mrs. J. H. Cattroll, Mrs. F. Baylis and Mrs. W. G. Drew. Representative to the Greater Victoria Lawn Bowling Association are Mrs. Davy, Mrs. McKeachie, Mrs. F. A. Simmons, Mrs. J. Pettie and Mrs. A. Huxtable. Mrs. D. Dewar was named auditor. Mrs. J. E. Johnson was chosen honorary president.

Annual reports showed that the club enjoyed a successful year.

Bruins Use New "Kid" Front Line

Art Ross Will Have Smart Squad for Major Hockey Campaign

BOSTON (CP)—Three years is a long time for such a volatile hockey figure as Art Ross of Boston Bruins to keep a secret, but now it can be told.

That canny product of Montreal, who moved into Boston 14 years ago and remained to build a great hockey club, came to the conclusion back in 1935 the time had come to develop a farm system for the Bruins.

Lester Patrick and Connie Smythe had that idea first and it paid dividends. Realizing those rival managers had the amateur market sewed up rather tightly, Ross was forced to plant his first seeds with caution.

As a result, most of his N.H.L. colleagues put it down to a series of happy coincidences rather than to Ross' acumen and foresight when Arthur bobbed up last season with the now famous Kitchener kid line of Bobby Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart. But Ross had been nursing them an entire year.

SECOND CROP

Now he has harvested his second crop, which includes two complete lines. One of the lines will be held in reserve on the Bruins' new International-American League farm at Hershey, Pa., as will a pair of capable defencemen, Jack Crawford and Jack Schewchuk, who will be kept on the ice at Providence, along with Frank Brimsek, a promising goalie.

Th training season was too short to disclose which of Ross' new kid lines was the best. Time will tell, but meanwhile the Bruins' manager decided to gamble with an amateur trio, Harry Frost, a right winger from the Hershey Cubs; Pat McEvoy, a centre from Sudbury, Ont., and Roy Conacher, younger brother of the great Lionel, and Charlie, as his third line.

If they fall, they'll be sent to Hershey in exchange for wingers Mel Hill and Bob Hamilton, who starred for the Providence Reds last season, and Terry Reddon, a Winnipeg boy who played with Brandon last season.

That is as far as Ross accents youth. The remainder of the squad is seasoned and rugged. Goalie Tiny Thompson is prepared to start his 11th season with the club, realizing he can call upon Brimsek whenever he needs a rest. Eddie (The Great) Shore and Dit Clapper again will protect Thompson, aided by such dependable assistants as big Jack Portland and Bill Hollett.

The Bruin's first line will consist of the high scoring Ray Getliffe, Bill Cowley and Charley Sands.

Ross accepted gratefully the new rule that permits him to dress 16 players. That will permit him to use such slick defensive forwards as Cooney Weiland, his new assistant manager, and Gordon Pettinger whenever the team is short handed because of penalties. Pettinger became an "orphan" when last season's third line was broken up by the sale of Art Jackson and Leroy Goldsworthy to New York Americans.

Ross and Weston Adams, the club's young president, agree with the axiom that "as Ross goes, so go the Bruins." Therefore it was with glee that they broadcast from Hershey camp: "Eddie is in wonderful condition. He's eager and alert and looks just as good as he ever did. His high spirit has been so contagious that we can't miss having a wonderful season."

Jimmie Carmichael has been named trainer, and Corporal Hall, Work Point, assistant trainer.

Horse Greets Ready

BALTIMORE (AP)—The weatherman was the fair-haired boy today as the match race of the mighty, the showdown tomorrow between Seabiscuit and War Admiral neared the zero hour of starting time on Pimlico's manicured mile and three-sixteenths of cushioned turf.

Barring a forfeiture, only one thing can postpone the oft-scheduled but never-run race, and that is rain between now and 8.30 tomorrow morning, when one Jervie Spencer Jr., Maryland's racing commission chairman, walks on the track for a final look-see and a momentous decision.

"If he rules 'it's fast,' the Biscuit and the Admiral will go post-ward about 12.50 p.m. (P.S.T.), even though it should rain after the official ruling. That's in the agreement. If he rules it isn't fast, the race will be postponed until Thursday and a lot of people, about 50,000 of them, will be temporarily disappointed. Forecast for tomorrow is partly cloudy and warmer."

Experts Refuse to Pick Favorite for Armstrong-Garcia Welterweight Title Bout Wednesday

NEW YORK — Henry Armstrong, the little brown man who rules the lightweight and welterweight boxers of the world, faces the stiffest challenge of his ring career Wednesday night when he climbs through the Madison Square Garden ropes to defend his welter crown against Cefirino Garcia.

Broadway gamblers, never noted for impulsiveness, are pricing the 15-round fight at 6 to 5 and take your choice, which shows how Armstrong has dropped in the public's estimation. A year ago the phrase "super-fighter" was being tossed about like confetti.

Armstrong has turned listless and slow in training. He still is hampered by the long, jagged cut in his lower lip suffered while training for his heroic victory over Lou Ambers.

NOT DECEIVED
Garcia's handlers are not deceived by Henry's apparently feeble showing. When the bell rings, Henry always has been a busy, energetic little guy throwing 100 and even 200 punches a round. Against the automatic man, Garcia will use the most publicized punch of modern ring history, "the bolo punch."

Every time Cefirino bangs someone a stiff one in practice, his handlers chant, "There it is, that's the bolo." Sometimes it is a long, looping uppercut made like the uppercuts they have been using since Jim Mac's day. Sometimes it is a right hook, high, wide and handsome. Garcia may have a weight pull of as much as 10 pounds on Armstrong. Henry figures on weighing in at something around 134 pounds.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, opening the Garden's big-time indoor fight season with this tid-bit, optimistically figures on a gate of $100,000, which would just about pack the big sports palace on Eighth Avenue. All signs point to a crowd of about 16,000 or 17,000.

Pitt Panthers Beat Fordham

NEW YORK (AP) — Pittsburgh's "wonder" football team emerged from Saturday's form-fitting program with free and indisputable claim to its ranking as the No. 1 United States college gridiron power.

The Panthers proved their ability to come from behind under pressure by roaring to three touchdowns in nine minutes to beat back Fordham, 24 to 13.

In the western conference they offer as runner-up, Northwestern, responsible for the day's biggest casualty among the all-winning teams with its 6 to 3 conquest of Minnesota, beaten in the conference for the first time since the Wildcats' 6 to 0 victory two years ago.

Notre Dame overpowered Army, 19 to 7, with the wealth of its reserves and the speed of its ball-carriers to stay in the unbeaten-united ranks.

In the southwest they tout all-conquering Texas Christian, which rolled for 509 yards, 221 of them on Davey O'Brien's passes to wallop Baylor, 39 to 7, and look more and more like the best team that conference ever has produced.

TENNESSEE UNBEATEN

In the south Tennessee remained unbeaten by hanging up its fourth straight southeastern league victory in downing Louisiana State, 14 to 6. Duke kept its goal-line clear for the season with a 14 to 0 defeat of North Carolina the Blue Devils' fourth win in the southern conference.

Eastern Ivy League worshippers are high on Dartmouth, which rode behind Captain Bob Macleod to a 24 to 6 rout of Yale and its first one-year clean sweep of the Big Three.

On the Pacific Coast support is split three ways: Among unbeaten California, pressed all the way to edge out Oregon State, 13 to 7; Southern California, unbeaten in the conference and still tied for the lead with the Golden Bears after swamping Oregon, 31 to 7, and non-conference Santa Clara, held to a 7 to 6 margin over stubborn Michigan State in an inter-sectional conflict.

Bombers Beat Riders

Winnipeg Qualifies to Meet Calgary Bronks in Western Grid Final; Ottawa Beats Argos

WINNIPEG — Winnipeg Blue Bombers accomplished an unprecedented feat, four straight victories over Regina Roughriders, to qualify for the Western Inter-provincial Football Union final with Calgary Bronks.

Bombers, facing a Rider machine rated in early season the most powerful in Regina grid history, suffered defeat in their first meeting this year but completed the string of four straight wins Saturday with a 13 to 0 conquest of Riders here in a sudden-death union semi-final.

As a result Bombers travel to Calgary next Saturday for the first game of the total-point final to be completed in Winnipeg November 13. The finalists meet again November 19 with ineligible players under the Canadian Rugby Union residence rule barred. Winner of this game will represent the west in the national final.

In the Vancouver Big Four Saturday Knights of Columbus defeated the winless Meralomas 12 to 2 to remain in third place behind North Shore Lions and University of British Columbia. At Edmonton University of Saskatchewan Huskies defeated Alberta Polar Bears 13 to 11 in a western intercollegiate game which had little significance because British Columbia already had clinched the Hardy Cup.

Letters to the Editor

THE GERMAN "VICTORY"

To the Editor:—Through a threat of war Germany got a territory inhabited by a few million Germans. This territory contains in its mountains vital essentials for the manufacture of war material, a district as important in this respect as Alsace Lorraine, for whose possession they fought the French for centuries. They gained a very rich manufacturing district. They are either going to obtain possession of the Skoda armament works, or strategic positions so near it as to enable them to either capture or destroy it at a moment's notice. They have gained a position facilitating the conquest of the rest of Czechoslovakia, because the strong defensive works the Czechs have labored on for years are in the district ceded to Germany.

This strong and strategic defence line constituted the closed door to the rich Ukrainian grain fields, long coveted by Germany. The same door leads to the Roumanian oil and grain fields, and looking further, it leads to India. The Little Entente, a strong bulwark against German aggression, has received a severe blow.

German prestige has gained in all of Europe, so has Hitler's in Germany. Germany's chance to defy the world and take what she wants is better than ever. To gain all this Germany lost nothing!

What did Chamberlain get in return? Hitler promised he would be a little discreet with military display and flag waving, and advance a bit slower, thereby giving the civil Czech population of the ceded area an opportunity to flee and save themselves from being murdered in the coming Henlein terror reign. Hitler promised to consider some future peace talk and he crossed his little heart in declaring that if Germany now be allowed to save her oppressed brethren in Czechoslovakia, then she would never, never again want another slice of Europe! To these promises Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini put their signatures, and rumors have it that they topped their generosity by paying for Chamberlain's dinner before he left Germany with a pat on his back. They could well afford it. Germany had won the biggest bloodless victory in history, and England and France, with the rest of Europe as spectators, awakened to the German danger, had lost the game in which they held the better cards.

Promises, and only promises, from the world champion promise-breakers, are all that England and France have to show for throwing their cards on the table. If anyone believes that Chamberlain's grand peace gesture has caused a sudden change in German hearts, then it is worthwhile to note the brutal and tactless thought behind the appointment of Henlein as ruler over the ceded Czechoslovakian territory. Henlein, the man whose followers have declared that they will take a hundred-fold revenge for every fancied grievance the Germans have suffered in Sudetenland. Even in the moment of their big victory the Germans could not be generous, but had to stick the mailed fist in the brave and defeated and betrayed little nation's face. Is this symbolic of German character?

If, today, England and the rest of Europe, after months of tension, are celebrating peace, there can be no denying that it is a peace of defeat, while Germany is celebrating a peace of victory. History may show that saving millions of lives today, by giving way to brute force, is but signing the doom of many more millions within a short time.

Chamberlain is gambling world peace and millions of lives on Hitler's and Mussolini's word. May they not find an excuse to break their word as they have done in the past.

H. HOLSTEIN-RATHLOU, East Sooke.

GOLDEN DRAGON PAGEANT

To the Editor:—When will the Incense God dance again? It is most pleasing to learn that the Victoria High School authorities have granted the use of the auditorium to the Chinese Youth Forum for another Golden Dragon Pageant on Tuesday, November 1.

Those who have seen the last display, sponsored by this forum, will remember it as one of the most colorful and prettiest presentations ever seen in the Occident. The classical Chinese costumes are always a brilliant sight anywhere.

Since the beginning of the war, these costumes and classical Oriental themes are becoming more or less rare and the public should not miss this chance to see them. As the Chinese Youth Forum is sponsoring this splendid pageant in aid of the suffering crippled children at the Solorium, residents of Vancouver Island will have several perfectly good reasons to see it.

(MISS) PANSY YOUNG, 1198 Kingsway, Vancouver, B.C.

HIGHER FARES EXPECTED

To the Editor:—Those who travel by street car in Victoria and in the municipalities are faced with the loss of the dollar pass, and they are likely to be compelled to pay a seven or eight-cent fare. The Victoria City Council is determined to waste the great asset of hydro-electric power and to rely solely on gasoline for transportation. There is still time for the wage earners, housewives and people who cannot afford motor cars to get together to stop a scheme which will take more money from those who are last able to pay.

Here is an example of the high cost of bus transportation. In Vancouver last week the bus fares over the Lion's Gate Bridge were announced. Travel time from Dunsuir Street to Ambleside will be 20 minutes. Commutation fare will be 17c, with 10 tickets, and cash fare will be 25c one way. Those fares are so high that West Vancouver is considering the operation of a municipal bus service into Vancouver to help those residents who must have cheap transportation to go to work or to do their shopping.

Victoria's supply of hydro-electric power is not affected by war, scarcity or price combines. Here is an example of restriction in the use of gasoline in time of war, which appeared in the "Looking Backward" column: "Twenty years ago, October 6, 1918. Save gas. Military orders received in the city today contain the announcement that until further notice no motor cars are to be used by the military on Mondays except in cases of greatest necessity. This course has been taken to conserve gasoline as much as possible for the use of troops at the front."

From the conflicting reports of the Vancouver meeting with the president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, it appears that the men who are determined to do away with hydro-electric power in transportation cannot even give an unbiased and accurate report of a business conference. They do not promise lower fares or more commodious and comfortable vehicles. So far as Esquimalt and Victoria West are concerned the route by the Johnson Street Bridge could be taken by the electric trolley buses which are now displacing street cars in many cities. The only thing that the Victoria City Council can promise is that after street car competition has been eliminated bus companies may be able to raise their fares on all routes for the benefit of their shareholders. Will the City Council do that?

Surely there are some public-spirited citizens in Victoria who can organize a mass meeting of protest immediately.

R. P. MATHESON, 397 Constance Ave., Esquimalt.

To the Editor: Mr. Leo Marston's letter "Viva Christo Rey" of April 26, says in part: "France is on the brink of civil war due to the activity of Communists and the apathy of Christians. If there is one section of humanity that is clear in its material aims it is the Communist section; the rest are mainly concerned about comparative trifles. The daily press for the most part is atheistic and hence throws its influence on the side of the Communists, not for love of them, but hatred of Christianity. Radio stations, with few exceptions, are likewise controlled."

The following quotations from Dr. Frankwood E. Williams, physician and psychiatrist, seem ably suited to rouse us of the Capitalist world from our apathy and assist us to the path of righteous living:

"Because we have greater knowledge of men than formerly we should be able to plan better. We shall first disregard all former assumptions and act upon what knowledge we have. (All men know about their world they have learned themselves; God has told them nothing.) Man requires security and love; he is also capable of hate. Provision must be made for both. Not finding security and love in the world about him, man was forced to postulate a God to whom he could flee and in whom and the religion built around Him he could find these things. Refusing to flee we shall face the world that seemed so formidable and attempt to solve the problem of its intractability. We will use the same methods here as have been used successfully in solving the hard physical problems of the world. We have to do with two situations, an immediate and a future. Provision must first be made for the excessive amount of hate now existing. We shall admit that men have a right to hate and to destroy that which oppresses them. (Any effort to find another way, to solve the problem by 'reasoning' one with another comes to this—surely, when through reasoning—those who exploit agree to cease exploiting and to permit men to live co-operatively together. It is not the 'radical' who first applies force. The 'radical' attempts to reason. Eventually his 'reasoning' is met by force, then 'reasoning' stops.)

"In these difficult times we are told that we should go to the temple; that we should get in touch with God. We do not need to get in touch with God. We need to get in touch with each other to confess our sins of aggression against each other. We need to search ourselves and to discover what is true of ourselves. We do not love each other. We must admit this. Until we do admit it there is no hope for us. When frankly we do admit it, we shall, at least, be ready to make a beginning. Pure selfishness will bring from us a reasonable, even good-will attitude towards each other, making it possible for us at least to work together for our joint interests. This is all that perhaps for the moment we should ask for or expect. We are capable of honesty and good-will, and perhaps more, but this more can come not through edict, but through working up from a right beginning. Thrown out on this ball in space, it would be well for us to take account of ourselves as sensibly as we would were we a shipwrecked group on a desert island."

While many are apt to criticize the reference Dr. Williams makes to their God he has confessed his sins of aggression, and also those of his kind, to the world, and is doing his utmost "in getting the life of humanity right with one another."

"The sole value of the church, or ceremonies, or sacraments, or scriptures is their efficiency in getting the life of humanity right with one another. They have absolutely no value aside from their worth as redemptive agencies. It is not the Church nor the Bible nor the sacraments that are to be saved, but men." — Dr. E. B. Howard.

A. TAYLOR, 2654 Fernwood Road.

BACK TO MONKEY TRIAL

To the Editor:—I feel compelled to answer Mr. Eekman, when he endeavors to misinterpret facts which are matters of record. Any of your readers who might be interested in the facts would do well to read the records of the case that occurred in the courts of Dayton, Tennessee. An abbreviated record of this trial was printed in the Readers Digest of August, 1936, and anyone who would claim after reading the records that Mr. Bryan won the case—well, words, would fail me to define them.

Mr. Eekman uses subtle tactics when he claims that Leopold found his theory of life in Nietzsche. This is purely imagination, endeavoring to discredit Mr. Darrow. Mr. Eekman also claims that I forgot the meaning of the Latin adage: De Mortuis Nil Nisi Bonum, when I attacked Mr. Bryan. I distinctly stated in my letter that I am not an advocate or admirer of Christian ethics. So I never made any claims for the phrase. Outside of the fact that those who make claims for Christian ethics, should not ignore the phrase, as Mr. I. Noble did in his letter of attack on Clarence Darrow.

MADE-BY-BLIND GOODS

To the Editor:—It has been brought to the attention of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind that one or two sighted men are peddling rubber mats from door to door in Victoria and vicinity. These mats are represented as being made by the blind. This statement is incorrect and the public is asked to verify any purchase they may make of "made-by-the-blind" mats by looking for the well-known "Blindcraft" label.

M. C. ROBINSON, Superintendent, Western Division, Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

"MY PEOPLE"

To the Editor:—"Why don't you do something for your own Canadian people, instead of worrying us about China, a foreign nation?" This question was put to a canvasser for help, medical and ambulance, needed to save Chinese civilians, fallen by the wayside. Answer: "Should we call the Chinese foreigners, especially in Victoria and Vancouver? In any case they are God's people, same as you and I are. When one thinks what their courageous stand for the past 16 months has done to preserve the thing called freedom in a decadent world, not for China only, but for other nations better armed but of little faith, of little courage, one can scarcely have the face to refuse what little help he is allowed to give. Patriotism is not enough: 'My people' are the people of this whole wide world."

As Emerson puts it: "So many men are worrying themselves over their own paltry affairs into untimely graves; but it is cheering to remember that, here and there, some great unselfish soul forgets himself into immortality." Kwan Fu-tze (Confucius) has been for 2,000 years among the immortals; the name Chiang Kai-shek must soon be added to that honor-roll of men "Never to be forgotten."

"Petty fears of loss of property, of prestige; selfish fears, seeking safety for oneself, one's family, one's country, at the cost of others, and the general dread of the horrors of war, are not enough. Not that way can we get permanent peace. There must be the will, individual and national, to sacrifice pleasure, property, life itself, so that justice, faith, freedom and truth may continue on the earth. The fear of destruction must become the will for construction." . . . So runs the word of Holland's leaders to their Queen at the Hague. But Holland took little part with the fighters for freedom in the Great War. And now again the world has been given its lesson at Munich, viz., that mere "moral re-armament," unless backed by the ability and the will to fight, count for little in the battle of democracy with modern Fascist despots. Well might Dean Elliott say to the Canadian Club: "Nelson's signal at Trafalgar of October 21, 1805, is as applicable today as then: only if it is obeyed by every free man, every free nation, can democratic freedom survive."

Beer and Wine Fight Renewed

Moderation League Explains Two Factions On Issue

The proposal for legalizing sale of beer and wine with meals in British Columbia came into the open again today with a statement by the Moderation League, claiming that the B.C. Hotels' Association, which opposes the move, is largely composed of hotels with beer parlors.

All members of the Legislature are being circled by the league to prove a claim to show that ranking hostilities in the province are in favor of beer and wine sale.

The Moderation League two years ago presented a petition to the government signed with 10,000 names urging that a plebiscite on the question be granted.

Mr. Kelway, in a statement to the members, quoted a remark from the annual report of B. H. Davis, president of the B.C. Hotels' Association, to the effect the move for beer and wine had been stopped in its infancy by "long hours in diplomatic and careful work."

The Moderation League claims that the title of the hotels' association is misleading, his statement says, as it does not express the views of the leading hotels. The association, he claims, represents "every roadside pub regardless of its standing as a hotel in the accepted sense of the word."

Some of the standard hotels which operate beer parlors, have membership chiefly because it represents the collective bargaining body to deal with the government in the matter of beer vending, he says.

Another association, the United Hotelmen's Association, representing ranking hostilities which cater to the public in all ways, was formed, he says. They have urged the government that the most reasonable purpose for beer and wines is as accessories to meals. He suggests that places purely supported by the sale of beer should not be allowed to use the names hotel and inn.

Gala Night for Children Planned

Hallowe'en entertainment for the children of Greater Victoria has been planned on a bigger scale than ever this year and if the weather behaves tonight should be one Hallowe'en that will live long in the youngsters' memories.

Oak Bay children will attend a huge fire that is being made ready outside the fire hall. The St. Mary's Troop of Boy Scouts will lead singing around the fire and candies will be provided. There will be costume contests and the "Y" troupe will also appear. The fire will be lit at 7.30.

At Fraser Street and Esquimalt Road there will be a fire for Esquimalt children, where a program will be presented.

Fruit and candy will be distributed and there will be a costume contest for children who attend the fire on Penryn Road for those residing in the Ten Mile Point area. The fire will be held near the Scout Hall.

Fur Case Is Sent to Trial

Harry Dewese Will Appear in Higher Court On Possession Charge

Harry Dewese was committed for trial by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of having possession of furs stolen from Leonard Wilkes, furrier.

The wholesale value of the stolen furs was placed at $997.50 by Mr. Wilkes.

A. E. Alexander was principal witness for the Crown. On being sworn Mr. Alexander was given the protection of the Canada Evidence Act at the request of his lawyer, W. C. Moresby, K.C.

Mr. Alexander said he had known Dewese about three months, and last Tuesday, three days after Mr. Wilkes' store had been robbed, Dewese had come to him in his store and told Mr. Alexander that he (Alexander) had got in touch with the owner of the furs and tell him they would be returned for a consideration.

AGREES TO PAY

Mr. Alexander said he telephoned Mr. Wilkes and the latter agreed to pay $50 for return of the furs. Dewese left his store to contact the people who had the furs, Mr. Alexander testified.

Later the same afternoon Dewese returned to state the amount for return of the furs had been increased to $150. Mr. Alexander said he again telephoned Mr. Wilkes and the latter agreed to pay the higher amount.

Mr. Alexander testified he then wrote Dewese a cheque for $150 in his (Alexander's) name.

Two hours later Dewese returned with the furs in four sacks, which were carried from a car parked outside the store. A few minutes later Mr. Wilkes had been called to Mr. Alexander's store and the furs turned over to him. Mr. Wilkes paid Mr. Alexander $150 for the cheque he had given Dewese.

Mr. Alexander said the sacks contained more furs than Mr. Wilkes reported taken from his store.

Mr. Alexander testified after negotiations with Dewese were completed it had been arranged that the police be told that the furs had been left in Mr. Wilkes' back yard and that he (Wilkes) was unaware who had returned them. Both he and Mr. Wilkes had realized it would not be good to be mixed up in a matter of this kind, he said.

NOT HAPPEN AGAIN

Mr. Wilkes, in his testimony, said he had seen Dewese at Alexander's store and Dewese had assured him "this would not happen again to either Mr. Alexander or myself."

The cheque given Dewese by Mr. Alexander was produced and identified. This was cashed by Dewese within three or four minutes after it had been handed him.

All the recovered furs were identified by Mr. Wilkes and were produced. They included three fur coats and several chokers and neckties, valuing in value from $160 to $5.

Detectives Pearson Woodburn and William Stark told of arresting Dewese in the St. James Hotel. When searched he had $60.65 in cash in his pockets and a $12 cheque.

Other witnesses were: Charles R. Shearer, bank teller; Miss Gladys Simpson, Mrs. E. J. Bugslag and Mrs. Sheila Bassett.

China's celestial Lion, the haunting strains of the ancient Chinese harp, and the portrayal of lovely Lan Ying, China's Juliet will be some of the rare features to appear tomorrow night at the Golden Dragon Concert in the Victoria High School auditorium, in aid of the Solarium.

Unusually Dry Year Expected

Unless November and December are unusually wet months, and there is no indication they will be, 1938 promises to be one of the driest years on record in Victoria.

For nearly six months now the monthly rainfall has been consistently below normal. The summer was one of the driest known to this district.

October again had less rainfall than is usual in October. A total of 2.57 inches was recorded for the month. This was .24 of an inch below normal.

Total precipitation for the 10 months of this year, ending today, was 14.56, according to the monthly weather report given out this morning at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill.

This was 3.62 inches below normal for 10 months. The average annual rainfall for Greater Victoria is 27 inches, so that leaves a little more than 12 inches to fall in two months—six inches a month, which is unusually heavy and not likely to occur.

The mean temperature for October was 52 degrees, which was one degree above normal. The maximum was 65 degrees on October 1; the minimum was 39 degrees on October 14 and the minimum on the grass was 28 on October 17.

Sunshine amounted to 140 hours, which was six hours above average. With today's sunshine the total will go another five or six hours higher.

The month has been unusually delightful, with plenty of warm sunshine and mild days and nights. There have been one or two real October gales, but the wind blew only hard and long enough to send the brown leaves fluttering and cascading to streets and lawns.

Rev. W. P. Turpin, M.A., T.C.D., Dublin, Ireland. He leaves his widow, at the family residence; two daughters, Mrs. Hoffman, Vancouver, and Mrs. Bartlett, Chicago, Ill., and two sons, Frank, at Borden, Sask., and Pat, of Estevan, Sask. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. F. Comley officiating. Interment in the family plot Royal Oak Burial Park. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

Robin Hood Stars In Atlas Film

'Four's a Crowd' Features Flynn and Olivia de Havilland

Robin Hood is a newspaper editor, Maid Marian is a spoiled young heiress, Will Scarlet is a playboy publisher, and the High Sheriff of Nottingham is a millionaire's butler. In short, the stars who made "The Adventures of Robin Hood" such a great picture are back in a fast modern comedy of newspaper life that is as distinctly 20th century as "Robin Hood" was 15th.

It's "Four's a Crowd", which comes to the Atlas today, and Errol (Robin Hood) Flynn, Olivia (Maid Marian) de Havilland and Patric (Will Scarlet) Knowles, with Rosalind Russell making a fourth, round the cast. Melville Cooper, ex-High Sheriff, is in the supporting cast.

'Zenda' Comes To Columbia

Treasures Among 10,000 'Props' Used In Production

If inanimate objects received screen credit, hundreds of the world's greatest treasures in antique and museum pieces, many of them priceless, would receive billing in "The Prisoner of Zenda", now at the Columbia Theatre, according to Fred Widdowson, head of the property department at Selznick International Studio, who issued requisitions for nearly 10,000 properties for use in this production.

The finest Sheffield and Sterling silver, savonnerie and Oberson rugs, Sevres, Dresden, Copenhagen and Capo di Monti porcelains, English Chippendale furniture, rare paintings and renaissance tapestries, scores of ecclesiastical antiques, were used as "props" in the picture, in which Ronald Colman, Madeleine Carroll and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. head the cast.

"Five of a Kind" At Dominion

The Dionne Quintuplets have graduated! Having served their screen apprenticeship, they are now revealed as full-fledged entertainers—singing, dancing, making music and fun—in their third and what is heralded their best feature picture, "Five of a Kind."

A 20th Century-Fox production opening tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, "Five of a Kind" provides a striking setting for the Quins.

It has been two years since Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Marie and Emelle emoted before the camera in a 20th Century-Fox feature, and in those two years they have "grown up."

Jean Hersholt, Cesar Romero and Claire Trevor are in the leads.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Frank Capra's uncanny understanding of all that is real, frail or heroic in human nature is finely drawn in the gallery of characters appearing in his newest Columbia production, "You Can't Take It With You," based on the Pulitzer Prize play by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, held over at the Capitol Theatre.

The picturization of this spectacularly successful stage play is peopled by the most lovable menage of human beings the stage or screen has known. Their distinct personalities and diversified individualities each gain from the vast fund of knowledge of humans that Capra has amassed.

Don Cossacks To Be Heard Here

Of all the artists to visit New York, "the Don Cossacks" remain the most sensationally striking singing ensemble New York has ever heard," declares the New York Times, a marvelous tribute to the extraordinary singing chorus that Victoria will shortly hear. This band of Russia's singing horsemen of the steppes, known all over the world for its thrilling performances of choral music, will give a concert in the Empire Theatre on Monday, November 14, under the direction of C. Lefevre and J. A. McVie.

String Instruments Theme of Talk

The Auxiliary of the Victoria Musical Arts Society met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Gordon Cameron. There was a large turnout of members and several new members were welcomed by the president, W. Inglis, who introduced the speaker of the evening, George J. Dyke.

In his informal, interesting talk on "String Instruments and Ensemble," Mr. Dyke first drew attention to the very early instruments: The lute, the Greek lyre, Egyptian harps, guitar, and some first stringed instruments played with a bow as the little rebeck of pear-shaped body, the forerunner of the earliest viol in its turn gradually superseded by the violin family which came into prominence during the 17th century.

Of the violin family its most famous makers lived in Cremona, the speaker giving such names as Amati, Stradivarius, Maggini, Guarnerius, from 1596 to 1745; Stainer and Klotz in Germany; Vuillaume of Paris and Duke, Banks, Foster and Betts of the English school.

In ensemble playing Mr. Dyke spoke briefly of the foremost string quartettes of the day and stressed greater interest in this kind of ensemble work.

Mr. Dyke also gave an interesting review of his long and varied career in the musical world of Canada, first in the Northwest Territories, and later in Vancouver and Victoria.

Interspersed with his talk were some solos by members of the auxiliary, including Julia Kent Jones, violin solos; Patsy Swift, soprano solos, and Donald Nelson, piano solos.

Refreshments concluded the evening, Mrs. Allan Peebles, the president of the parent society, and Dorothy McMicking, vice-president of the auxiliary, presiding at the candle-lit and chrysanthemum-decorated table. Mr. Dyke and Mrs. Cameron were both warmly thanked by the president.

Satire on Wedded Life at Plaza

A transcontinental marital fight provides a hilarious new vehicle for Robert Young, Ann Sothern, Reginald Owen, Cora Witherspoon and others in "Dangerous Number," a satire on married life, produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer under direction of Richard Thorpe, and the current attraction at the Plaza Theatre.

Based on the magazine story by Leona Dalrymple, the new picture tells of a young businessman who marries an actress, and of a honeymoon trip which proves one continual battle, the couple quarrelling and becoming reconciled again on an average of every half-hour.

Quarrels in auto camps and on trains, in hotels and penthouses, and complications over daylight saving time, all figure in the mirthful screenplay as written by Carey Wilson.

Musical Comedy At Oak Bay

"Gold Diggers in Paris," sixth of the famous musical comedy series, is at the Oak Bay Theatre today.

Ray Enright and Busby Berkeley directed, and the musical numbers, which include, "I Wanna Go Back to Bali," "Day Dreaming," "Stranger in Paree," and "The Latin Quarter," were supplied by tunesmiths Harry Warren, Al Dubin and Johnny Mercer.

Rudy Vallee, crooning maestro of the airwaves, heads the cast and golden-voiced Rosemary Lane is featured opposite him, with Gloria Dickson doing a feminine menace. The Schnickel-fritz Band takes care of the rhythm with Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Melville Cooper and Mabel Todd in charge of comedy.

Europe from 1918 to 1938
11—HITLER BUILDS HIS POWER

The story of Hitler's rise to power is like a dream (a nightmare, perhaps) but the facts show he is really there, really the ruler of Germany. A man who once seemed hardly more than a clown has risen to glory of a sort. What he does, may decide whether millions of human be-

Adolf Hitler

Napoleon was a corporal in the French army before he rose to power. Mussolini was a corporal in the Italian army, and Hitler was a corporal in the German army. That may make the little office of corporal seem important, but there have been hundreds of thousands of other corporals who have not been heard from.

There was something different about this German corporal who was a brooding man, and he brooded over Germany's defeat in the World War.

He was an Austrian by birth, but he had moved to Germany two years before the war broke out. He had joined the German army, had fought on the front lines, had been wounded and gassed.

A new Germany rose after the war, a German republic. It was a Germany suffering from wounds, suffering from hunger, suffering from war debts. Yet millions of Germans tried with all their hearts to make the republic a success.

Hitler cared little, if anything, about the republic. What he wanted was power. He wanted to build a German nation larger and stronger than had been known before.

Munich was the place where Hitler set to work. He talked before small groups, then before crowds.

In 1919 he helped form the German Workers' Party, and in less than a year he had charge of it. In 1921 he changed the name to the National Socialist party. He was a bitter enemy of the real Socialist party, but believed the name would help him win followers.

In 1923 Hitler gave a talk in a Munich beer hall, and shouted that the next day he and his followers would march to Berlin. Along the way they expected to gather force, and when they reached the German capital they hoped to throw down the government and start a National Socialist rule.

It was a bold idea, but it didn't work. The marchers were stopped after they had gone a few miles. Hitler was arrested, and put on trial. His sentence was three years in prison.

The men and women then holding office in Germany were for the most part kindly folk. They looked on Hitler as a joke, not as a danger. After he had served eight months of his sentence, he was set free. It was supposed he had "learned his lesson."

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, November 1, 1938
Adverse aspects appear to dominate today, according to astrology. News that causes uncertainty in regard to future planning is indicated.

Uranus now gains power and the voice of the people will be heard in protest where democracy is threatened. Independent political leaders will gain rapidly in influence.

Merchants are well directed and will profit greatly in coming months, especially those who deal in products of iron and steel.

Unusually cold stormy weather is prophesied for the next three months and winds will be more destructive than usual. Floods also will cause damage in widely separated parts of the United States.

Russia will experience internal difficulties as relations with foreign nations become more complicated. The Soviet government is to conform to banking exigencies as its gold resources are affected.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of extraordinary opportunities. There may be employment in large organizations where jealousy is prevalent.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"We've enjoyed so many of their parties, I feel we should invite them over here some evening."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—We are two girls in a small town, with fairly good office positions. We have been going with the same boys, who come from nice families and make just enough money to support us. We have known virtually all of the boys in this town all of our lives and do not think we could love any of them. We would like to go out of town and get positions in a city where we can meet new and interesting men, but our parents will not permit us. How are we to find out whether or not we love the boys we know? Should we marry them and settle down in this town for the remainder of our lives?
M. and L.

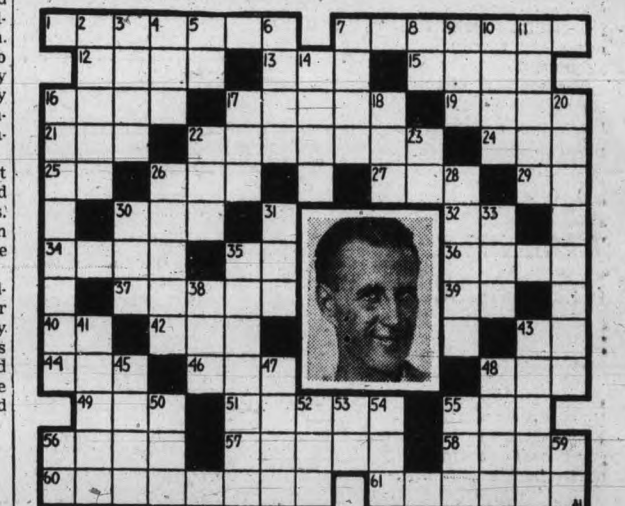

Answer: "All girls dream about a glamorous Fairy Prince riding down their street some day. They are always looking for him and that is why they fall so easily for any strange man who comes their way and who has a new line. Any strange travelling salesman, any flashily-dressed actor, any long-haired poet can have the girls eating out of his hand and turning up their noses at the sensible, worth-while boys to whom they are accustomed and who don't seem romantic to them because they went to school with them."

Believe me, my dears, the men in cities and far places are just cut off the same bolt of cloth as the ones you know and they are no more interesting after you have known them for a week than the home-town lads. They all want to talk about themselves, their occupations, their cars, what they have been listening to over the radio and what they read in the newspapers and they all get bored when you try to talk about yourself. All the difference even in their love-making is that they can't ask you where you have been all their lives that they never met you before, all the follow-up about your being different from all other women and your eyes being like stars, and that you are the only one they ever loved, etc., etc., is the same old pattern.

Believe me, marrying the man you have known all your life and settling down on Main Street is a mighty safe matrimonial bet. You know what you are getting, and you don't have to go through all the adjusting that you have to do when you marry some one with whom you have hardly a speaking acquaintance. The poet said a lot when he wrote: "Like a fire upon the hearthstone is a neighbor's homely daughter. Like the starlight, like the moonlight is the handsomest of strangers." And that goes for sons as well.

DOROTHY DIX.

SNAKE IN BANANAS—Dr. Ian M. Cowan, assistant director of the Provincial Museum, is shown holding a four-and-a-half-foot Central American wood snake, which was found by Grant Johnson in a shipment of bananas to Ryan Wilson's warehouse on Saturday. The snake, according to Dr. Cowan, is one of an arboreal species, which sometimes attains a length of seven feet. It is not deadly poisonous, but of the constrictor family. Just after the picture was taken the snake was chloroformed, taking over five minutes before its lashing body was stilled.

HOW FAST DID YOU SAY YOU WERE GOING?—"Between 25 and 30" wouldn't do in this case, because when the driver of the pursuing car came out of his darkroom he had a picture of his speedometer showing 63, and the license number of the car he was following, leaving no room for argument anywhere. This device is in use on "scout" cars of a large U.S. insurance company, which likes to check up now and then on the operation of cars and trucks insured with it, as well as to keep tabs on chronic accident principals. A speedometer, with a large, plainly-marked dial, is mounted in the left fender, a camera over the windshield. By pressing a button the driver can take a picture, showing the speedometer and the back of the car ahead. In this picture, the driver of the offending car was guilty of ignoring the "stop" sign on the right as well as of speeding.

REPAIRING VICTORIA STREETS—The City of Victoria is anxious to get rid of the last of its wood-block pavement. This week workmen are replacing the blocks with asphalt on different parts of Langley, Broughton and Courtney Streets. The above picture shows a truck dumping a load of tarred gravel and workmen spreading it out on lower Fort Street.

"NATZI" STORM DUPERS—This might be a scene from Nazi Germany—but it isn't. It is the high point in a two-day "crisis" over the "frontiers" of Harvard University. Officials of Cambridge, Mass., where the school is located, recently threatened to incorporate Harvard as a municipality "separate and distinct" from Cambridge. Students hastily formed a "Harvard Secessionist Society" and, aided by members of the Harvard Lampoon, staged the burlesque "Nazi" demonstration shown above—a take-off on the Sudeten-Czech situation.

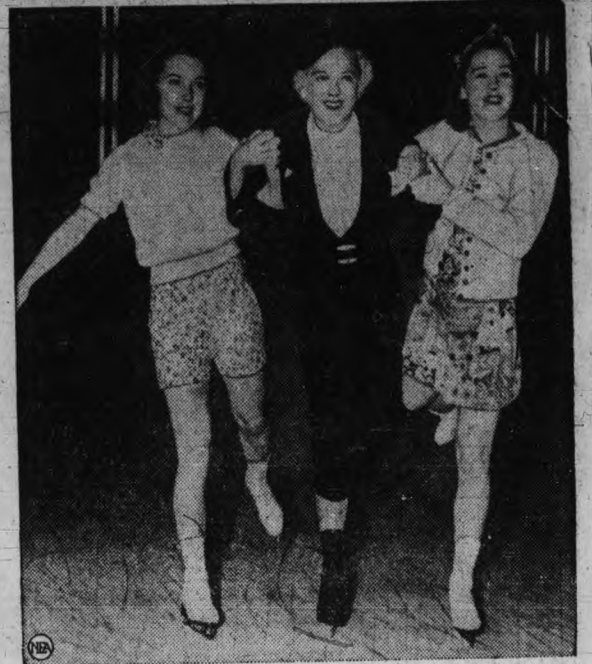

CARRIES ON—It seemed that "Charlie Chan," famous Chinese detective of the movies, had passed on with the recent death in Sweden of Warner Oland, who created the character. But insistent demands by movie fans for a continuation of the mystery thrillers moved the producers to seek a successor. Veteran character actor Sidnew Toyer, pictured above, made up as the aphorism-dispensing Oriental sleuth, won the role over 34 candidates.

THE OLD AND THE NEW IN DEFENCE—Probably nowhere else do the instruments of warfare furnish such a sharp contrast with their background as in timeless London, much of which is as it was when knighthood was in flower, when men fought hand-to-hand and high walls meant security. Today, attackers ride miles high, and so London's "walls" are built up to meet them, in the guise of a "barrage" of balloons floating thousands of feet over the city and trailing steel cables, contact with which would inevitably wreck any attacking plane. Here, before an absorbed audience, one of the balloons is being sent aloft over the battlements of the Tower of London, during a recent demonstration of the barrage defence. The test was declared a success, despite the fact that five of the balloons broke and considerable damage was done by their trailing cables.

SKATES BACK TO STRENGTH—Georgia Coleman, smiling winner of a long battle with infantile paralysis, is in New York learning to skate at her doctor's orders to regain full strength in her legs. Assisting the former Olympic diving champion are Peggy Fahy, left, and Dorothy Lewis.

QUACKSMEN SOUGHT IN JEWEL ROBBERY—'Twas a fine October day in New York, so Mrs. Marion Whitehead Pierce, right, ex-wife to both a beverage millionaire and to an heir of a woolens fortune, took a stroll in Central Park and fed peanuts to the ducks. All of a sudden—even quicker than that—one ingrate of a quacker snapped at her hand, and when she looked down a $10,000 black pearl was gone from the ring, shown on her hand. Mrs. Pierce pierced the air with her cries, which brought park guards, police, finally reporters to the scene. A number of duck suspects, pictured at left, were arrested and held under observation for some evidence of guilt, as it were. Incidentally—Mrs. Pierce is opening on Broadway soon in both a night-club and motion picture.

THIS WIDE-EYED BABY IS ASLEEP—Those large blue eyes that look out at you from the above picture are unseeing. They belong to 3-year-old Mary Reardon of Chicago, pictured as she passed her 200th day of sleeping sickness or encephalitis. Mary Ellen's pretty face is unchanging, she recognizes no one.
